WINNER OF THE SAGE BURSARY AT ECER 2011 ANNOUNCED

Los Angeles, CA (Sept 16, 2011) – SAGE, the world's leading independent academic and professional publisher, today announced that the SAGE Bursary at this year's European Conference on Educational Research (ECER) in Berlin, was awarded to Dr. Ekaterina Kozina, who recently graduated from University of Dublin.

Dr Kozina presented a paper titled "Towards a Sociology of Teacher Socialisation: National Study into First Year Professional Experiences of Primary Teachers" at the Emerging Researchers Conference.

"EERA has a strong commitment to supporting early career and PhD students but currently, there is no EU equivalent to the SAGE Bursary for researchers who have just completed their PhD" said Dr Kozina. "This new SAGE initiative presents a great opportunity for me to attend the annual European Conference on Educational Research, present my work to the international research community and build collaborative relations with fellow researchers."
