

TYPE – Transition Year Physics Experience School of Physics, Trinity College Dublin

TYPE 2009: 9 - 13 November 2009

TYPE 2010: 1 – 5 March 2010

Programme includes physics lectures, experiments and demonstrations that will make your hair stand on end! There is also a project and on 'Astrophysics Day' a trip to an observatory.

- Meet real scientists
- Learn about physics research
- Make new friends
- Physics is fun at TYPE

So far this year I have learned to sail, helped raise money for Concern, starred in a musical, learned to rock-climb and judo ... but the most enjoyable experience of the year by far was an introductory physics course at TCD. I had the most craic I've had in school since ... since ... well, since ever.

It was really good because it showed what life is like in college and how different the subject is in college compared to secondary school – overall brilliant experience and I would recommend it to everyone to try.
