A meeting of the University Council was held on Wednesday 14 February 2007 at 11.15 am in the Board Room.

Present
Vice-Provost, Senior Lecturer, Registrar, Senior Tutor, Dean of Graduate Studies, Dean of Arts and Humanities, Dr G Biehler, Mr D L Parris, Dean of Engineering and Systems Sciences, Dr M Stuart, Dr H Gibbons, Dean of Health Sciences, Dr V A Campbell, Dr J P Gormley, Dean of Science, Dr M J F Brown, Dean of Social and Human Sciences, Dr M L Brennan, Dr B M Lucey, Ms F M Haffey, Mr R Kearns, Mr P Laird.

Apologies
Provost, Dr M E G Lyons, Dr A O’Gara, Ms H Allen, Mr C Reilly Professor N M Claffey.

In attendance
Librarian, Secretary, Acting Academic Secretary.

Observers
Dr M H Adams, Dr P Coleman.

By invitation
Dr E O’Dell, Mr D MacSithigh (for CL/06-07/091).
Dr V P Kelly (for CL/06-07/093).

SECTION A

CL/06-07/085 Minutes The Minutes of the following meetings were approved and signed subject to the amendments noted below:

(i) 11 January 2007 The Senior Tutor was present and apologies had been received from Dr M H Adams.
(ii) 17 January 2007 Mr P Laird and Dr M H Adams were present.
(iii) 18 January 2007 Apologies had been received from the Dean of Science.

CL/06-07/086 Matters Arising from the Minutes A number of matters arising from the minutes were discussed and have been minuted under appropriate headings hereafter.

CL/06-07/087 Restructuring (See Actum CL/06-07/071 of 17 January 2007) The Senior Lecturer informed Council that Board at its meeting of 31 January 2007 approved the establishment of a restructuring advisory group, and noted the membership of the group as follows:

Professor E J O’Halpin  Board
Dr D P O’ Donovan  Board
Ms M Leahy  Board
Dr M E G Lyons  Council
Dr V A Campbell  Council
The restructuring advisory group will consider draft proposals on academic and administrative restructuring and will make recommendations to Council and Board.

Council noted that the possibility of having three Vice-Deans in the proposed Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences is currently being discussed at several fora in College.

CL/06-07/088 Bachelor in Acting Studies (see Actum CL/06-07/072 of 17 January 2007) It was commented that there were many reasons for the discontinuation of the Bachelor in Acting Studies, (BAS) and that the minute, by ascribing the primary reason as being pedagogical, did not reflect the multitude of reasons, including financial, for the programme’s discontinuation. It was noted that all proposals for establishing masters programmes must be considered by the Graduate Studies Committee and approved by Council. One member expressed concern that perhaps College was becoming too directive in the management of communication and public relations issues, and felt that a ‘spin’ was being put on many issues including consultation on restructuring. The Senior Lecturer commented that the consultation process in place on restructuring was comprehensive and inclusive and that there was ample opportunity for staff to be actively involved in the process. It was confirmed that the statement in the minute referring to a College-wide policy on handling communication related to the need for Schools to consider the consequences of decisions taken at School level on College’s overall interests. Some surprise was expressed that a programme could be discontinued without Council’s approval. The Senior Lecturer noted that Board at its meeting of 31 January 2007 also expressed concern that undergraduate programmes could be discontinued without reference to the University Council. He informed Council that his Office would review the procedures and bring recommendations to a future meeting of Council. The Dean of Graduate Studies noted that proposals for discontinuing postgraduate programmes are considered by the Graduate Studies Committee, the Heads’ Committee and Council.

CL/06-07/089 HEA Funding Allocation Model (see Actum CL/06-07/072 of 17 January 2007) The Senior Lecturer informed Council that the IUA Registrars and the Senior Lecturer were currently considering how individual universities have interpreted and applied the HEA guidelines for returning student numbers to the HEA for funding purposes. There is some evidence of inconsistency of interpretation and application across the universities, which gives rise to concern about the reliability of the model. He reiterated his concern that the absence of a base price per student within the model posed a significant risk to College and to the university sector generally. He noted that a feature of the allocation model is to achieve uniformity across the sector. The majority of Arts and many Science undergraduate degree programmes in other universities are three years in duration, and funding for the fourth year of Trinity’s programmes may be at risk. He confirmed in response to a question, that the allocation model does take into account e-learning and distance education provision provided that the programme leads to a level 8 award.

CL/06-07/090 Heads’ of School Committee Minutes of the meeting of the Heads’ of School Committee held on 23 January were circulated with papers for the meeting. The Senior Lecturer drew Council’s attention to minute HC/06-07/33 and informed Council that

_Incorporating any amendments approved at subsequent Council meetings_
Mazars Consultants will be making a presentation to the SAS Steering Committee on 15 February 2007 and following this the SAS Steering Committee will prepare a report and recommendations for consideration by the Information Policy Committee (IPC). In response to a question, the Senior Lecturer confirmed that the cost to-date of the project would be included in the report to the IPC.

CL/06-07/091 Statutes Review Dr E O’Dell and Mr D Mac Síthigh attended Council for this item. Dr O’Dell introduced the work of the Statutes Review Working Party which was established by Board at its meeting of the 25 October 2006. The membership of the Working Party comprises Dr E O’Dell (Chair), the Registrar, Dr S Boyce (TRSA), Mr P Guinness (Maxwells Solicitors), Ms M Sharp (Lecturers’ Forum), Dr T D Spearman and Professor D M Singleton (Fellows). The Statutes represent the academic interests of the College and assert its core values. They were last revised in 1966, and since then there have been many changes to College and to society which are not reflected in the Statutes. While the Statutes have served College well, they are out of step with the existing legal structures and College governance, and they have the potential to prevent development. Their revision is now necessary in order to, among other things, achieve consistency in language, and to prevent future legal difficulties arising from on-going development. The Statutes Review Working Party is responsible for drafting the revisions and Council’s role in relation to the Working Party is to advise on policy changes. There will be a College wide consultation process including a series of open meetings and regular public meetings. Information will be posted on the College website.

In response to questions, Dr O’Dell explained that Board must first approve the final draft of the revised Statutes. Following this, the Fellows must approve the changes by a majority vote, which, if approved, will be considered by the Visitors. He noted that in so far as the Statutes must be consistent with the provisions (where relevant) of the Act, the Universities Act, 1997 does not constrain the Statutes and that it is permissible to both add to and remove sections during the revision process. Dr O’Dell commented that the Universities Act, 1997 and the Trinity College, Dublin (Charters and Letters Patent Amendment) Act, 2000 make provision for College Statutes, and that the State has no further interest in the Statutes. The existing Statutes need to be changed in relation to the composition of Council in order to bring it in line with the Universities Act, 1997.

The Vice-Provost thanked Dr O’Dell and Mr Mac Síthigh for presenting this item, and encouraged Council members to participate fully in the consultation process. It was noted that the Working Party will make further presentations to Council on proposed revisions in due course.

CL/06-07/092 Chairs The Secretary reported as follows:

(i) Chair in Construction Innovation The Council noted and approved that Professor S M Greene should replace the Senior Lecturer as pro-Senior Lecturer on the Search Committee for the seminars and interviews. The Council noted that the seminars and interviews would be held on 25 and 26 May 2007.

(ii) Chair of Biochemistry (1960) The Council noted and approved that Professor M A Lynch should replace Professor J A Fitzpatrick on the Search Committee. The Council noted and approved the appointment of two external assessors. The Council noted that the seminars and interviews would be held on 26 and 27 April 2007.

(iii) The Thomas N Mitchell Chair in Cognitive Neuroscience The Council noted that the seminars and interviews would be held on 9 and 10 May 2007.

Incorporating any amendments approved at subsequent Council meetings
Course Proposal – BA (Mod) in Molecular Medicine  A joint proposal from the School of Biochemistry and Immunology and the School of Medicine to establish an undergraduate course in Molecular Medicine together with a memorandum dated 7 February 2007 from the Senior Lecturer was circulated with papers for the meeting. The Senior Lecturer introduced this item and noted that the proposal was considered by the Undergraduate Teaching and Learning Committee (UTLC) at its meeting of 6 February 2007. The UTLC agreed to recommend the proposal to Council on the understanding that (a) the Schools involved would consult further with the Bologna Desk and revise the ECTS weightings to bring these in line with College standards and regulations, (b) the stated learning outcomes would be revised to be more student focussed, and (c) that the award title be revised.

Dr V P Kelly attended Council to present the course proposal. He informed Council that the aim of the course is to educate students in the molecular basis of human disease by bridging the principles of basic science and clinical medicine and by providing a strong training in the understanding of translational research. The course is aligned with the strategic direction of both Schools involved and with College’s strategic plan.

Students will be admitted to the course from the Senior Freshman year of Natural Sciences (TR071) commencing Michaelmas 2007 with a proposed annual intake of ten. The School of Biochemistry and Immunology already offers courses in immunology, cell biology, and structured biology and it proposes to spread the 45 student intake across these courses and the proposed course in molecular medicine. Dr Kelly drew Council’s attention to the curriculum and noted that he has scheduled a meeting with the Bologna desk to address the issues raised by the UTLC.

Council in discussing the course proposal commented on the need to make provision for international fee-paying students. Dr Kelly confirmed in response to a question that medical and dental students would be eligible to apply for a place on this course as part of an intercalated year, and that these students would be ex-quota. It was noted that the degree award would be a BA (Mod) in Science. It was pointed out that clinical medicine is a discipline and not a School as referenced in the proposal.

Council approved the course proposal subject to the award title being a BA (Mod) in Science; the ECTS and learning outcomes complying with College regulations and standards; financial arrangements being approved.

Retention and Academic Promotion A memorandum dated 9 February 2007 from the Vice-Provost on retention and academic promotion was circulated with papers for the meeting. The Vice-Provost introduced this item noting that the memorandum was strictly confidential. College’s ability to retain excellent academic staff was now threatened due to an environment of increased head-hunting and aggressive recruitment by other institutions nationally and internationally. A key mechanism in the retention of excellent staff was promotion. Trinity considers applications for academic promotion once annually and it was now necessary to introduce an additional element to the College’s promotion procedures to allow for greater flexibility in responding to the threat of losing excellent staff.

The Vice-Provost drew Council’s attention to the new academic promotions procedures approved by Board in 2004, noting in particular that Board approved the removal of quotas from all academic promotions commencing in the academic year 2006-07. She invited Council to consider the proposal that in exceptional circumstances such as the need to retain a member of staff, that the Provost may convene the Senior Promotions Committee or Personal Chairs Sub-Committee of the Senior Promotions Committee at any time throughout the year to consider a candidate. She outlined proposed procedures that should be employed in considering candidates for promotion to Associate Professor or Personal Chair outside the annual process.

Council discussed the proposal at length. It was suggested that destination data of academic staff who have left College would be useful. It was generally accepted that academic staff tend to advance their career by taking up positions in different universities. Poaching of staff of all levels has been a practice for many years both nationally and internationally. It was commented that the proposal may give cause for concern about equity of treatment of staff, and argued that staff have different loyalties, some to their subject, some to the institution, and some to their own interests. Those who have a loyalty to the institution will be less prepared to move to another institution, and as a result their career advancement may be slower. It was further felt that this procedure is only likely to be used for a select number of disciplines, and it was argued that this also resulted in different treatment for different staff depending on their subject area.

Council discussed the operations of this procedure and sought assurance that it would not be used to bring pressure on College to fast-track staff through the system. It was felt that perhaps a single procedure operating throughout the year might address some of the concerns expressed and would obviate assertions of favourable treatment of some staff. It was held that the promotion system was unduly demanding and that for some Trinity staff it would be easier to apply for positions elsewhere than to put themselves forward for promotion. It was commented that the need to be progressed over the merit bar on the lecturer grade existed only in Trinity and that this created an additional hurdle for Trinity staff.

The Vice-Provost in responding to Council’s concerns and comments, noted that the promotion process was very rigorous and this ensured that standards and quality were maintained. Candidates being considered for promotion outside the annual process would be assessed in the same way as any other candidate being put forward for promotion. This special procedure would not be open to staff who were previously unsuccessful in their application for promotion in the annual promotion system and who were subsequently successful in obtaining a higher position elsewhere. It was noted that this procedure would only be activated in extremely rare circumstances and only when strategically necessary.

Council approved the proposal that in exceptional circumstances the Provost may convene the Senior Promotions Committee or Personal Chairs Sub-Committee of the Senior Promotions Committee at any time throughout the year to consider a candidate. In the case of candidates to be considered for promotion to Associate Professor or Personal Chair outside the annual process, the procedure employed annually will apply, and:

1. The Provost will decide whether a prima facie case exists to warrant convening a meeting of the Senior Promotions committee in the case of a candidate for Associate Professor, or the Personal Chairs Sub-Committee of the Senior Promotions Committee in the case of a candidate for a Personal Chair, with the advice of senior academics in the candidate’s area, e.g., the Head of School, Dean of Faculty, or Chair in the discipline.

2. If a prima facie case exists, the Provost will convene a special meeting of the Senior Promotions Committee in the case of a candidate for Associate Professor, or the Personal Chairs Sub-Committee of the Senior Promotions Committee in the case of a candidate for Personal Chairs, to consider the candidate’s application and academic references.

3. In the case of a candidate for a Personal Chair, the candidate will be invited to meet with the Provost and the Personal Chairs Sub-Committee. Given the need

Incorporating any amendments approved at subsequent Council meetings for timely decision-making in such circumstances, the meeting may proceed provided 50% of the members of the Personal Chairs Sub-Committee attend. The Personal Chairs Sub-Committee makes a recommendation about the nomination of the candidate for a Personal Chair to the Council and Board.

It was recommended that the procedure be implemented as soon as possible and be reviewed at the end of a three-year period.

CL/06-07/095  Nominations for Appointment Council noted and approved the circulated information (see Appendix 1 and 2).

CL/06-07/096  Any Other Business Council approved the recommendation that Professor R A Stalley should act as pro-Dean to conduct an independent review of a postgraduate student complaint. It was felt that there is potentially a conflict of interest in the two roles held by Dean of Graduate Studies, one to uphold rules and regulations and one to act on disciplinary matters, and suggested that the latter role should be carried out by an appointed pro-Dean.

SECTION B

CL/06-07/097  Information Policy Committee The Council noted and approved the recommendations as set out in the minutes of the Information Policy Committee from its meeting of 14 December 2006, which had been circulated.
