

Reurbishment of 36 Fenian Street — Timeline

2012		36 Fenian street assigned to the Centre on the understanding that it would undertake to refurbish the premises
2012	March	The Faculty AHSS provides funding to cover the cost of a Surveyor or Engineer to do a thorough inspection and provide hard facts and figures so that an accurate base figure for the refurbishment is provided
2012	May	Establishment of a fundraising group, chaired by Conor Killeen (Key Capital)
2013	April	The launch of the concept of the Centre for Literary Translation by Seamus Heaney
2013	December	Executive committee of the TCD Association and Trust approves an award of €400,000 towards the cost of refurbishing 36 Fenian Street for the Centre for Literary Translation... .
2014	February	Establishment of a Steering group in the School of Languages, Literatures and Cultural Studies to oversee the Fenian Street project
2014	April	The capital project submission for the refurbishment of Fenian Street for use by the Centre of Literary Translation is recommended by CRG for approval. Project to revert to CRG with confirmed costs, when known / available & before committing to contract for refurb
2014	April	Monica Janson, Architectural Services Officer in TCD Buildings office appointed to look after the project.
2014	August	Appointment of Kriterion Conservation Architects & J.V.Tierney M&E Consultants
2014	October	Final Sketch Drawings approved by the Steering Group
2014	December	Fire Certificate granted
2015	January	Planning permission granted
2015	March-April	Tender process completed and appointment of a contractor
2015	April	Capital Review Group and Executive Officers give authorization to progress to the construction phase of the refurbishment project. College has agreed to underwrite the costs of the project (€905,000) over a five-year period.
2015	June	Commencement of refurbishment work
2016	March	Refurbishment project is complete
2016	March	Fenian Street project shortlisted for the Heritage/Conservation section of Irish Building and Design Awards 2016
2016	April	Fenian Street project shortlisted for the Conservation Project of the Year category at the Irish Construction Industry Awards 2016.
2016	April	Literature Ireland and DAP move in to Fenian Street
2016	September	School of Languages, Literatures and Cultural Studies colleagues and students on the MPhil in Literary Translation move into 36 Fenian Street
2016	MT & HT	TCLT programme of events up and running
2017	spring	End of retention period.