

Sláintecare – a Pathway to Universal Healthcare Seminar

19 September 2017, 9-1pm

Science Gallery, Trinity College Dublin

Hosted by the Pathways to Universal Healthcare Research team, Centre for Health Policy and Management, Trinity College Dublin

Agenda:

Chairperson: Professor Charles Normand, the Centre for Health Policy and Management, Trinity College Dublin

8.30	Registration & coffee
9.00	Welcome	Prof Michael Gill, Head of School of Medicine, Trinity College Dublin
9.15	Introduction to the Pathways research project	Dr Steve Thomas, Director of the Centre for Health Policy and Management, Trinity College Dublin
9.30	Technical foundations of Sláintecare <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Entitlements• Financing• Integrated care	Dr Sara Burke and Rikke Siersbaek Dr Steve Thomas and Dr Bridget Johnston Dr Sarah Barry (All from the Centre for Health Policy and Management, Trinity College Dublin)
10.30	Panel discussion	Open to the floor
11.00	Coffee/comfort break
11.30	Reflections for the Chair	Roisin Shortall, TD, Chairperson of the Oireachtas Committee on the Future of Healthcare
11.50	A policy analysis perspective	Dr Sara Burke
12.10	Learning from the international experience of implementing major health system reform	Dr Josep Figueras, Director of European Observatory on Health Systems and Policies and head of the WHO European Centre on Health Policy in Brussels
12.30	Panel discussion	Open to the floor
1.00	Close	Sandwiches, tea & coffee

More info on the Pathways project here <https://www.tcd.ie/medicine/health-systems-research/>