Using GmailFS to back up up your data

- Set up your Gmail account
- Install GmailFS
- A new drive appears on your computer, like this:

Notes:

- If your file is too big, zip it. If it's still too big, use something like WinRAR to "Split to volumes". You can also do this using the UNIX/Cygwin "split" command.
- If you change your college password, remember to change the "Login as" settings for the Gmail drive.
