Dr Patrick Prendergast, Provost and President
Trinity: A University for Ireland….a University for the World!

Trinity Can Be Your University…

A warm Trinity welcome awaits all our students. We believe that a diverse campus adds to the Trinity Experience for everyone, enhances their personal development and enriches the culture of the university. Trinity is an open and inclusive university and we are proud to keep these values at our core.

▶ Our current students come from every county in Ireland and from 122 countries around the world.

▶ In 2015/16 our student body had over 4500 non-Irish students (26%), providing a true global community on Trinity’s campus.

▶ 45% of our students from the island of Ireland are from outside Dublin, and we aim to increase this proportion.

▶ 20% of students gain admission to Trinity via educational access pathways. These include socio-economically disadvantaged students, students with a disability and mature students. We aim to increase this proportion to 25% by 2019.

▶ 36% of our International students are from the USA. In 2017/18, we welcomed students from 31 of the 50 US states into our 4 year undergraduate programs.

▶ Students coming from the United States to study full-time in an accredited Trinity program do not require a visa to enter Ireland.

▶ It is important to note that all non-EU students, whether visa-required or not, must register with the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) – formerly GNIB – within a month of arriving for permission to remain in the state.

A Diverse University…

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Trinity College, underpinned by specific commitments which aim to create “a community based on a collegiality in which all are encouraged to use their talents to achieve their potential.” (Trinity College Dublin Strategic Plan, 2014-2019).

Our college community is composed of a rich mix of individuals who, through their own distinctive viewpoints, contribute to the intellectually challenging culture of the university. We are proud of many successes in managing diversity and inclusion, for example, in access to education, in gender equality, in recognition of LGBT issues, and in disability issues.

As Ireland’s foremost university our campus ethos, is not only about respect, understanding and appreciation of difference, but an ethos where difference in individuals and in groups is supported and celebrated. Our student community is representative of a broad range of gender, nationality, ability, age, sexual orientation, religion and socio-economic status. This diversity of background, as well as the diversity of the range of sporting, cultural, artistic, political and academic student clubs and societies is reflective of that diversity, and ensures the inclusion of students of all interests.

Hand in hand with our supports for diversity, being a student at Trinity is about making the most of every opportunity to fulfil your potential, and on that basis, we encourage and welcome people from all backgrounds to join our student community.

Trinity’s Location

Your University, Your City

Trinity sits in the heart of Dublin’s city center and over the centuries the city has grown up around the university. Today, this is a great advantage for our students. Dublin is a vibrant, young, European capital city, and everything the city has to offer is easily accessible to Trinity students. The vast array of restaurants, cafes, delis or coffee shops (most offering student deals and discounts) cater for every taste and budget. Dublin’s theaters, museums, bars and clubs ensure that there is always something exciting for students to enjoy every day of the year. There are plenty of places to shop, whether that’s for your weekly groceries or a browse through leading high street stores on Grafton Street or Henry Street.

If you want to take time out to relax in nature, the city’s parks (including Phoenix Park, one of the largest urban parks in Europe) and easily accessible coastline, beaches and the Dublin mountains are all close to hand. For those new to the city, Dublin quickly becomes a home away from home, while for those students from Dublin, coming to Trinity gives them the chance to discover their city anew.

Trinity’s campus contains state of the art modern facilities including the Sports Centre, Science Gallery, Nanoscience Research Centre, Long Room Hub, and the Biomedical Sciences Institute, situated on a 47-acre campus of cobbled squares, historic buildings and green playing fields.

Trinity’s central location makes it highly accessible for all forms of public transport: Trinity will soon have its own LUAS (tram) station and there is a DART (Dublin’s suburban rail system) station opposite the campus. A large number of Dublin’s bus services pass by the University and national bus routes are a few minutes walk away. Dublin’s two main train stations are in close proximity, while Dublin airport is 15km from the campus and is directly accessible via bus or taxi. We even have three ‘Dublinbikes’ (shared cycles) stations adjacent to the campus.

Trinity’s location is also advantageous when you are looking for a job – Dublin’s ‘Silicon Docks’ are within walking distance, as is the International Financial Services Centre, and a large number of other businesses and organizations have their Irish headquarters close by. The Dublin region is also home to many global corporations across a range of sectors.

Reasons to Choose Trinity... What our US Students Say

Audrey Williams,
European Studies Student
from Massachusetts, USA

“When I was a senior in high school, my sense of adventure persuaded me to apply to Trinity, and my enchantment with the university and the charming city of Dublin when I visited induced me to stay.

I liked how broad my course is, and it has allowed me to study a wide range of topics - French, Spanish, politics, history, economics, sociology, and philosophy. I found my course’s mandatory year of study abroad to be appealing as well - and next year I will be studying abroad at Sciences Po in Paris - one of the world’s most renowned universities for political science! As traveling is perhaps my all-time favorite thing to do, it worked out perfectly that Dublin is a great base to travel around Ireland and, thanks to Ryanair, Europe. Besides seeing most of Ireland on road trips with my family and going to friends’ houses, I have visited London, Edinburgh, Berlin, Brussels, Lisbon, Strasbourg, Oslo, Vienna, Salzburg, Krakow, and Warsaw.

Of course, it is difficult to move so far away from home, and to a completely new country to boot. However, it was all worth it, and going to Trinity has been an incredibly rewarding experience.

If I had to give one piece of advice to any student about to start studying at Trinity, it has got to be: get involved in societies!! This, I believe, is what makes Trinity truly unique - the social life is almost completely run by the students, and we achieve some pretty incredible things. There is such a wide range of societies and sports clubs. There is really something for everyone. I’ve gotten to do so many other cool things - see my heroine Amy Poehler give a talk to the University Philosophical Society, give a chamber debate in front of hundreds of people. There have been so many advantages to coming to Trinity, and if I had to do the whole process over again I wouldn’t change a thing!”

Caoimhe Tyndall,
Science Student
from New Jersey, USA

“I chose General Science as it provides students with the opportunity to explore a wide variety of science-based modules before declaring a specialized course of specific interest. In the first two years, General Science allowed me to study both Neuroscience and Genetics, as well as a plethora of additional modules, introducing me to other scientific fields. Science in Trinity is the perfect course for students who are confident in their passion for science, but would benefit more from extra time and exposure before specializing.

The most challenging part of transitioning into an Irish College from an American High School was adapting to an academic year without continuous assessment. I overcame this challenge by continuously assessing myself throughout the course of the term. Admittedly more often in second year, I constantly practiced questions from past exam papers, respective textbooks, and created study groups with peers who could challenge my thought processes in a way that kept my brain engaged and intrigued throughout the year.

Dublin is by far one of the most diverse cities this Earth has to offer. Within one 115 km² area, it contains striking city lights along O’Connell Bridge, vibrant ocean views from the peaks of Howth, tranquil trails through St. Stephen’s Green, and everything in between. From the traditional pubs, to the rugby pitches, to the dynamic buzz of Grafton Street, every inch of Dublin exudes with Irish culture and Irish pride.

If I had to describe Dublin in three words, I would say: Picturesque, Homely, Vibrant.”
Your First Year in Trinity

What happens after you join us in Trinity? Well, we know it’s a time of tremendous excitement and anticipation, but also a time of some trepidation, so your first week is all about helping you discover Trinity and meeting lots of new people. Freshers’ Week (Student Orientation) is when it all happens – there are no classes, so it’s all about information sessions, seeing what sports clubs and societies you want to join, meeting your Tutor who will give you a tour of campus and organize social events, meeting your Tutor who will provide support to you throughout your years in Trinity, and of course the Freshers’ Ball.

During Freshers’ Week you can also meet people from the Sports Centre, and Student Supports and Services (e.g. Student Counseling, Health Service, Disability Service, Chaplaincy, Student Learning Service, Careers Advisory Service and the Day Nursery). These are the services whose job it is to make sure that you get the best out of your time in Trinity.

What happens after Freshers’ Week?

After the excitement of Freshers’ Week, teaching starts and you get a chance to settle into your course. Most classes are a mixture of lectures and tutorials and some have practicals as well. The tutorials are less formal and give you a chance to explore and discuss the topics covered in lectures with your classmates and teaching assistants.

Of course it doesn’t stop there. Your class rep organizes events throughout the year that give you endless chances to get to know your classmates. As the first year progresses there are many other events to make sure that you enjoy your time in Trinity, including Re-Freshers’ Week in week 4 (another chance to join sports clubs and societies), Trinity Arts Festival, RAG (Raise and Give) Week, Trinity Ball, Students’ Union activities and entertainment and many, many more events run by the 168 sports clubs and student societies. And that doesn’t include all of what Dublin city has to offer!

At Trinity we are committed to delivering a transformative experience, not just academically, but personally and socially. The best way to do that is to get you meeting people and involved in activities as soon as possible. That’s what you can expect in your first year, your first year and indeed every year that you are in Trinity!

If you want to find out more about life in Trinity, you can check out the Student Life section and the sections on Your Support Network, Your Learning Supports, Sport at Trinity, and Student Societies. Also take a look at the Student Profiles to hear what our current students say about their life in Trinity!

Student Entertainment

University life is about so much more than just education and nowhere is this more evident than at Trinity. Trinity sits in the heart of Dublin city where there are endless extra-curricular and recreational opportunities. You can immerse yourself in a broad range of sports clubs and student societies and through these activities you will get a real sense of the ‘Trinity Experience’, something that extends far beyond lectures, tutorials and exams. You will also have the benefit of the best Students’ Union in the country, providing Trinity students with a wide range of entertainment, from mystery tours on chartered trains to the infamous Iron Stomach competition during RAG (Raise and Give) Week. The Students’ Union officer who will have the greatest impact on your extra-curricular ‘Trinity Experience’ is the Entertainments Officer, who ensures that your entertainment needs are being fully catered for throughout your time in Trinity.

On top of this exciting range of events, Trinity’s societies run thousands of their own events and activities throughout the entire year including: weekly nights out in Dublin’s best nightclubs, huge international gigs, comedy nights, live music on campus as well as plenty of other events for you to enjoy.

Of course Trinity’s entertainment goes much further than nightlife. The university is renowned for attracting some of the most interesting and famous guest speakers from around the world. Recent speakers have included celebrity, political, sporting and academic giants such as Angela Merkel, Bono, Al Pacino, Tim Cook (CEO of Apple), Amy Poehler, Chris Hadfield, Dana White (President of the UFC), John McCain, Helen Mirren, Joe Biden, Channing Tatum, Rafa Benitez and Alex Ferguson to name but a few. Trinity clubs and societies ensure that your entertainment is not limited to the University’s campus with numerous trips around Ireland and across the continent, including the annual Trinity ski trip which is the biggest international student trip in Ireland with 500 people traveling to one of the best resorts in the Alps.

Freshers’ Week

Incoming Trinity students can expect to be greeted by the famous Trinity Freshers’ Week, filled with day-time and night-time entertainment, giving you a real taste of what Trinity and the capital city have to offer. Previous Freshers’ Weeks have seen such acts as Robin Schulz, Klingande, Calvin Harris and Two Door Cinema Club perform for the Freshers’ Ball. Together with the Entertainments Officer, student societies put on a dedicated Freshers’ Festival offering you a taste of their finest activities. The entertainment doesn’t end with Freshers’ week though.
Trinity Ball

At the end of the academic year something very special happens on the campus. Trinity plays host to the world-famous Trinity Ball. The biggest private party in Europe sees more than 7,000 students donning ball gowns and tuxedos for Trinity’s very own music festival. Marquees and stages are set up across campus, with festivities kicking off at 10PM and acts playing until 5AM. And the good news? As a Trinity student you can get your hands on two coveted tickets! In recent years the Ball has been played by the likes of Bastille, Imagine Dragons, Basement Jaxx, The Streets, Example, Jessie J, Rizzle Kicks, Friendly Fires, Ellie Goulding, Charlie XCX, The Kooks, All Tvvins, Duke Dumont and Years & Years. The Trinity Ball is the highlight of the year for many students.

The Pav

The Pavillion Bar, affectionately known as the Pav is located at the heart of Trinity, overlooking College Park. There really is nothing better than sitting out on the grass with your friends when the sun is shining and the Pav provides a place for you to chill out and get away from the city even when it’s all around you. It is the social hub of the University and offers a home to live music, big screens for sports, and even just a meeting place before the night continues on to one of the many music venues and nightclubs located on the Trinity’s doorstep.

Theaters, Galleries and Museums in Trinity

Trinity contains four theaters (including the Samuel Beckett and Players’ Theaters) which showcase the work of students taking drama and professional acting courses, as well as performances directed and designed by some of Ireland’s leading theatre practitioners. These theaters showcase performances during the Dublin Theatre Festival, the Dublin Fringe Festival as well as performances by leading dance and theatre companies from Ireland and abroad.

Also, make sure to visit the free, cutting-edge exhibitions and events at the Science Gallery on the Trinity campus. Find out more at: www.sciencegallery.com

Trinity is also home to a number of its very own museums including the Zoological Museum, Weingreen Museum and the Geological Museum.

Students’ Union

As a Trinity student the Students’ Union is your union, run for students by students. It represents you at college level, it looks after your needs, and fights for your student rights. Students can get involved with the Union right from the moment they arrive in Trinity whether that’s becoming a Class Rep, getting involved with SU Council or even running to become a sabbatical officer.

Student Societies and Publications

Student life in Trinity is extremely diverse and exciting, mainly due to the daily assortment of events and activities organized by students for students.

We have 120 student societies which constitute the most dynamic and active set of university student societies in Ireland. We cover a multitude of interests from the Animation Society to the Zoological Society and we are home to the world’s oldest student societies, the ‘Hist’ or Historical Society founded in 1770 and the ‘Phil’ which is the oldest debating society in the world founded in 1683 and whose guests have included everyone from Amy Poehler to International Space Station commander Chris Hadfield.

Trinity is home to Ireland’s only entirely student run orchestra, which regularly plays at music festivals such as Electric Picnic and Forbidden Fruit as well as DU Players which are the most active theatre group in Ireland. You can try your hand at everything from gaming to volunteering, get involved at all levels with running a radio station or write, direct and star in your own film or TV show, learn a new language or brush up on your photography or DJ skills. Why not take part in a fashion show or show off your musical talents at an open mic night?

You cannot miss the society stands during Freshers’ Week, during which Front Square will be packed with all 120 societies, the Students’ Union, the Trinity Publications committee and 48 sports clubs all vying for members. There are numerous events daily throughout the week and it does not let up during term time. Never fear if you don’t make it during this week – societies are open to new members throughout the year.

Optional Courses

OPTIONAL LANGUAGE COURSES

Optional language learning offers Trinity students the chance to study a language alongside your course at no extra cost. Language learning allows you to expand your options for studying abroad during your degree, gives you a competitive edge in graduate employment and enhances your future mobility and your intercultural awareness. As well as learning a language, you will gain key competencies such as communication, teamwork and collaboration, interpersonal skills and confidence in giving presentations.

The following languages are available: Irish, French, Spanish, Italian, German, Turkish, Croatian, Korean, Japanese and Mandarin. For some languages, the minimum entry requirement is a Leaving Certificate (or equivalent) qualification. Other language modules are open to complete beginners. These modules are designed for students who are not taking a language as part of their degree program.

The number of places available for students in their first year at Trinity is limited but these modules are available in each year of your studies. In some degree courses you can take these modules for credit, which means your score will appear on your final university transcript. Whether you take a language module as an optional extra or for credit you will receive a certificate on completion of the module which confirms your proficiency level according to internationally recognized norms.

Find out more at: www.tcd.ie/slscs/undergraduate/clcs-language-modules

BROAD CURRICULUM

You would possibly be taking your chosen module with fellow students from other undergraduate courses, where Science and Engineering students meet fellow students from Arts or Health sciences, broadening your Trinity Experience and providing a wonderful opportunity to view the subject from a different perspective.

- Provide unique points of view
- Challenge and lead
- Approach problems creatively
- Engage with the wider community

Building a Trinity Class

Irish Students
On average, 85% of each incoming class graduates from an Irish secondary school.

- As Ireland’s most selective university, Trinity typically accepts the top 10% of Leaving Certificate students.

International Students
Approximately 15% of the class is made up of top students from nearly 122 countries.
Students from EU countries are admitted based on examination and school results. The admissions criteria for non-EU international students vary by country and are determined by the teaching processes in each country.

How to Apply
1. Go to www.tcd.ie/courses and find the course you love.
2. Read the user guide for non-EU applicants.
3. Apply by selecting the ‘Non-EU Application’ link under the course description. You can save your application and return to it, but remember to submit it when you’re finished!

US Applicant Profile

Diverting from the traditional path of a US-based college education is a brave and audacious step.

A small percent of US high school students explore the option of pursuing an international degree. It is a bold choice and an exciting prospect. Whether inspired by a relative, advised by a counselor or driven by curiosity, most students who consider going abroad for their degrees are adventurous and genuinely interested in expanding their worldview.

No two Trinity students are alike, but many of our international students are...
- Independently-minded
- Passport holders who have traveled outside the US (though not necessarily to Ireland)
- Aware of the long-term value of global citizenship
- Eager to immerse themselves in their interests
- Inquisitive and willing to approach things in different ways
- Ready to experience life in a modern EU capital city
- Driven towards a particular area of study
- Academically strong, with a record of achievement in core areas
- Deeply committed, as shown through a progressive course of academic pursuits

The best way for students to determine whether an international education may be right for them is to talk with current international students, either during a visit to campus or via email or Skype. Trinity’s student ambassadors give tours of campus, share their experiences and answer questions for interested students.

Note: a review of entry routes to two subject courses is being undertaken in Fall 2017. As a result, entry routes in 2019/20 may be subject to change.

POSSIBLE COMBINATIONS of subjects for TSM are indicated by ✗ or ✱ in the grid below.

- ✗ indicates combinations in which both subjects are studied for three years, and one subject only is studied in the fourth year (both subjects are studied to honors degree level).
- ✱ indicates combinations in which students may choose to study:
  - both subjects for three years and one subject only in the fourth year, OR
  - both subjects for four years

The grid below shows the possible combinations of subjects for TSM. Students select two subjects and pursue both to degree level. Usually both subjects are studied for three years and one subject is only studied in the fourth year (there are some exceptions, see below). An honors degree is awarded in both subjects.

Class of 2019

Róisín comes to Trinity from Charlton, Massachusetts, where she went to Shepherd Hill Regional High School. Despite being offered a number of scholarships for universities in the US, Róisín opted to undertake her degree at Trinity. She is undertaking a 5 year program in Engineering, leading to a Master’s Degree.

“It is a great program and I’m thrilled to be here. I feel I will have a real competitive edge by having both a Bachelor’s Degree and a Masters from a top international university when returning to the US. I’m hoping to pursue a PhD at an Ivy League School after Trinity. On top of this I know that there are a lot of job opportunities for Trinity graduates. I’m loving being here. I’ve joined so many societies from film and tennis to hiking and croquet!

Trinity is a very friendly, welcoming community and integrating has been very easy. Everyone has been so welcoming and I’m feeling very much at home already, despite only being here a few weeks.”

Alec is from Greenwich, Connecticut and studied at Williston Northampton School in Easthampton, Massachusetts.

“I hadn’t really considered studying outside of the US, but was really impressed by my first contact with Trinity at a talk in my school. I also met with the Head of Admissions at Trinity’s Open Day held in the US. The individual contact, support and attention from Trinity staff has been second to none. After reading through the Trinity website, which has great information for international students, I knew I really wanted to study here as it gives me the chance to pursue History and Political Science in detail. I wouldn’t have had the opportunity to do so at a US university. All my professors are truly excellent. I’ve been surprised at how available they have been. They also teach on tutorials, which is amazing. I’m enjoying living in Trinity Hall campus accommodation. There are plenty of US students around, but I’m happy to be sharing with other Irish students, as it gives me the opportunity to integrate and experience Irish culture at another level.”

Daniel O’Brien
Business and Economics
Graduate, 2016

“When I left Dublin in May 2016 – my last trip home after four years studying at Trinity College Dublin – part of me felt as if I was equally leaving a home I had grown to know and love. A proud American, born and raised in Philadelphia, I completed my undergraduate degree in Business and Economics at Trinity and wrapped up what has so far been undoubtedly the four best years of my life.

For me, answering the question of where I went to college has always involved fielding a familiar array of well-intentioned – if somewhat tiresome – reactions. “But all the Irish want to come here,” you can almost see people thinking. “Ireland is for taking tours through green fields and sleepy old towns. Besides, America is home to the best schools the world has to offer.”

Addressing these misconceptions over the years has allowed me to reflect on a number of issues tied up in that discussion, not least of which is trying to figure out what I wanted from my time in college.

When I travel to Dublin, my bland mid-Atlantic accent sticks out like a siren, telling taxi drivers that I’m a piñata full of euros waiting to be taken for a ride. Only when I helpfully remind them of the shortest route into town do they think to ask how I got to know the city so well.

Meanwhile, upon returning stateside for the summer, I’m reminded of the many aspects of American college life that I missed by taking an “alternative” route. For better or worse, frat houses, tipping bartenders, and seeing my parents for Thanksgiving are all foreign concepts to me. But despite the things I may miss out on by hovering between cultures, I have never regretted my decision to attend Trinity. The experience is more than the sum of its parts.

Some of my most formative memories were made in Dublin, and the city still houses many of my closest friends. I know the streets by heart, and more importantly I know which ones to avoid. At the same time, being abroad has made me appreciate my hometown in more ways than I ever thought possible. When Irish friends come to Philadelphia, I take as much pride in showing them the Rocky statue as I do the culinary marvels popping up throughout the city. I can easily see what made my parents and grandparents decide to raise their children here.

So when people ask me why I went to Trinity, or why I went to Ireland for college at all, my answer always focuses on the unique doors I’ve opened rather than some of the more mundane ones I may have missed.”

History and Political Science
Graduate, 2013

“I have always loved history, but the subject came alive for me during my years at Trinity. Attending lectures by academics at the top of their respective fields is a privilege that very few undergraduates enjoy. I received fantastic guidance from Trinity’s International Career Advisor on what to do after completing my studies at Trinity.

I continued on to undertake my Masters at the University of Oxford, UK. Following this I returned to my native Texas where I took a position at the Texas Senate as a policy researcher. In my work at the Senate I regularly draw on the research and analytical skills that I honed while at Trinity. I have also recently established the Texas Trinity Alumni Group. Despite no longer living in Ireland, Trinity is, and will always be, a hugely important part of my life.”
Trinity offers a wide range of world-class postgraduate programs at both Masters and Doctoral (PhD) level. Our renowned interdisciplinary research centers and institutes attract leading researchers in every discipline, from biomedical engineering to film studies, from history to ubiquitous computing. Many of our taught Masters programs can be completed in a single year and are more cost effective in comparison to our international counterparts. Entry to Irish universities is competitive, and no graduate applicant, from Ireland or any other country has an automatic right to admission. Most courses at Trinity have a restricted number of places available for postgraduate students.

The range of studies on offer is vast and the standard set for postgraduate study is exceptionally high. This combination, together with the range of ancillary facilities in the immediate vicinity of the university, offers an almost unparalleled learning experience to all postgraduates.

Online Applications

All course information and online application details are available at www.tcd.ie/courses/postgraduate/az. All applications for postgraduate research and taught programs should be made online by logging on to my.tcd.ie.

Throughout the application and admission process, communications between Trinity and the applicant will primarily be via online messaging within the my.tcd.ie portal, and via email. Please note that incomplete applications cannot be processed.

You should also note that unsuccessful applications will not be returned. Applicants should make all reasonable effort prior to registration to ensure that the course/program they are registering for meets their expectations, by:

- contacting the relevant course coordinator or prospective supervisor/research director.
- accessing all information available on the courses website www.tcd.ie/courses/postgraduate/az and the specific school/course web pages linked on this site.

Once you have submitted an online application you will be sent an acknowledgment email to the email address you provided when setting up your user account on my.tcd.ie applicant portal. The applicant portal will allow you to send and receive communications in respect of your application to Trinity College Dublin. You will be able to track the progress of your application at every stage of the admissions process; update your personal information, view decisions made on your application(s) and accept any offers you may receive.

Academic Registry

Trinity’s Academic Registry will provide assistance throughout the admissions process.

From the point of submitting your postgraduate application, through to acceptance, tuition fee payment and student registration, Academic Registry will provide a range of administrative supports. The Service Desk Team will be available to address your queries which can be asked via the home page of my.tcd.ie by clicking on the ASK AR button and selecting the appropriate enquiry category or calling us on +353 (1) 896 4500.

If you have not yet made an application you can also email us at academic.registry@tcd.ie.

International Students

Visa Requirements

If you are a citizen of the European Union (EU), you do not need a visa to enter and live in Ireland. Some, but not all non-EU students require visas to enter Ireland; students from North America are among those who do not require a visa. The list of visa-required countries can be found at the INIS website: www.inis.gov.ie.

It is important to note that ALL non-EU students, whether visa-required or not, must register with the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) – formerly GNIB – for permission to remain in the state. Students must show their offer letter at airport immigration where they will receive a temporary stamp in their passport. They must register with the INIS within the time limit specified on their temporary stamp.

Employment

Non-EU nationals who have permission to undertake postgraduate study in Ireland are entitled to take up casual employment, defined as up to 20 hours part-time work per week or full-time work during vacation periods.

In order to encourage talented, skilled graduates to pursue careers in Ireland, upon successful completion of an undergraduate or postgraduate program at Trinity, students have the possibility to stay in Ireland to work for one year on the Third Level Graduate Scheme. This allows students to gain work experience opportunities in Ireland in a wide range of industries and organizations. During the 12 month period students are able to work full time in Ireland.

Students may also have the option of remaining in Ireland for a longer period if they are able to secure employment that meets the criteria for a Work Permit. In addition the US-Ireland Working Holiday Agreement provides a separate work permit for US students, who can apply for this within 12 months of graduating.

Employers worldwide hold Trinity graduates in high esteem. The university has produced generations of outstanding graduates. Some of the most famous people in Irish history have been educated here: writers like Oscar Wilde and Samuel Beckett; scientists like William Rowan Hamilton and E.T.S. Walton, who won the Nobel Prize for splitting the atom, as well as two Irish presidents and many industry leaders and entrepreneurs.

As a truly international university, we welcome applications from prospective postgraduate students anywhere in the world.

We hope you will consider choosing a course at Trinity for postgraduate study, for an exciting new journey that will open your mind to new experiences, ways of thinking and friendships, many of which will last for a lifetime.

This is reviewed by the relevant School and acceptance is dependent on the quality of the proposal and availability of adequate supervision. The Dean of Graduate Studies then conducts the final review and approval subsequent to meeting all criteria.

Funding Opportunities

The university offers postgraduate awards which are available only to students intending to register for higher research degrees full-time (i.e. Ph.D.):

Postgraduate Ussher Fellowships

These postgraduate fellowships are only applicable to new entrants on the Research Register

Postgraduate Fellowships are available to new entrants to the full-time Ph.D. register for entry in September and/or the following March of the same academic year (e.g. September 2018 and/or March 2019). The Fellowships aim to support and develop gifted research students. They are awarded competitively on academic merit.

The Fellowship fully covers EU and non-EU fees and provides an annual maintenance of €13,000 for three years. Fees will be covered and maintenance is payable monthly via Trinity College payroll directly to your bank account.

The fellowship is unrelated to teaching. It is important to be aware that income received by the award recipient from other sources (such as private tuition, research funding), can be to the maximum annual income level of €18,000 excluding fees but including the studentship maintenance.

You must make your application for the Ussher award in conjunction with your Ph.D. application. To apply for the funding during your online application, simply select the award (Studentship or Ussher Award) you wish to be considered for from the drop down menu in the Section of the application form titled “Funding/Financial Support”.

Please note that the closing date for application for this award is the 1st of May 2018. This closing date covers September 2018 and March 2019 entrants only.

*These figures are subject to change

Provost’s Scholarship

From September 2018-19, Trinity will offer 40 funded PhD scholarships (covering fees (either EU or Non-EU) plus an annual stipend of €16,000 per year for 4 years) across all faculties for students working on research projects with assistant or associate professors.

Applications will welcomed from assistant and associate professors in all disciplines for an award in relation to a particular research project which they are undertaking or will undertake in order to fund the cost of a PhD student to work with them on that project. Successful awardees will then be able to recruit a funded PhD student to work on their project and will, in turn, supervise the student’s PhD to completion.

More information on postgraduate funding and scholarships can be found on our website: www.tcd.ie/study/postgraduate/scholarships-funding/

Student Testimonials
from Postgraduate Students

“Type of person.”

Munir Al Akari
M.Phil in Race, Ethnicity, Conflict, Class of 2015

“A dynamic, challenging, engaging and thought provoking journey right at the fusion of international conflict, social policy, human rights, race and ethnicity. Having professionally experienced the vast challenges of international conflict in the Middle East, this program, at a world class institution, provided me, and our class, with a focused yet comprehensive foundation of the theoretical frameworks that underpin social structures, institutions, governments and societal norms. Discussions were further enriched with the backdrop of critical and contemporary case studies in conflict, ranging from Palestine and Bosnia, to Northern Ireland. Lectures were delivered by academically and professionally experienced professors - coupled with valuable engagements and contributions from students who had come from all corners of the world.

My own academic and professional interests lie at the intersection of policy and international conflict. This Sociology MPhil was a pivotal cornerstone in advancing my academic and professional career - particularly in understanding the dynamics of state institutions and their effects on society. My dissertation drew a comparative analysis of EU democratization policies in Ukraine and Libya. The program equipped me with the academic knowledge and skills to both comprehend and hopefully influence some of the pressing challenges of today’s global society.”

Munir is currently working as a Policy Advisor at Permanent Mission of Ireland to the United Nations, New York.

Stephanie Kelly
M.Sc. in International Politics
Class of 2014

“I decided to take the M.Sc. in International Politics because of the fantastic support I had from the faculty in the Political Science department during my undergraduate study, as well as the international recognition that the department garners. I use skills acquired during the program every single day in my role as Global Strategy Analyst for an investments firm. The analytical nature of the course, combined with a quantitative grounding, gives students an edge over more theoretical politics courses. The lecturers really go above and beyond in terms of support and challenging students to think harder, go further and question pre-conceived notions we all started with. Political science is far from an ivory tower endeavor; in my work, markets are more and more concerned about geopolitics. The M.Sc. has given me the knowledge and confidence to contribute to the ordinarily technical investment process.”

Stephanie is now working as a Global Strategy Analyst in Edinburgh.
Erin Jo Tiedeken
PhD. Plant Sciences,
Class of 2014

“I graduated with a B.Sc. in Biology in 2010, but I knew immediately that I wanted to pursue a PhD. in Plant Sciences at Trinity College Dublin for two simple reasons; the expertise of the staff and the prestige of the University. The Plant Sciences Department conducts groundbreaking research and trains their postgraduate students for excellent careers.

While at Trinity College, I presented my work at international conferences in Denmark, Norway, and the United States, conducted fieldwork in Spain and Portugal, and mentored undergraduate students. I even traveled to Kenya on a Tropical Ecology field course as a postgraduate supervisor. These are experiences that I was afforded because of the excellence of my own mentors and the resources Trinity provides for its postgraduate students.

One of the things I loved about college life is the vibrant community of postgraduate students. Friendships are formed and a mutual desire for success becomes an integral form of support. My time at Trinity College Dublin has afforded me unparalleled academic and personal development. An impressive staff, combined with Trinity’s international reputation for excellence in research, makes the Plant Sciences Department a great place to foster the skills and interests of anyone who is passionate about our natural environment.”

Rishi Ahuja,
US Postgraduate Student
George J. Mitchell Scholarship
M.Sc. in Economics

Rishi Ahuja is pursuing a Masters of Science in Economics at Trinity College with a focus on online market discrimination and financial regulation through the George J. Mitchell Scholarship.

Rishi is originally from California where he completed his undergraduate education at the University of California, Berkeley studying Politics, Economics, and Policy. Over the course of his time in Ireland, Rishi rowed with the Dublin University Boat Club, served as a Policy Consultant for Senator Sean Barrett, was an Impact and Strategy Analyst for Social Entrepreneurs Ireland, and raised over 1500 Euros with 100minds through an art exhibition with fellow Mitchell Scholar Julianne Norton.

“My experience in Ireland has been absolutely incredible. I’ve been constantly amazed by the kindness, familial spirit, and camaraderie that I’ve encountered throughout my time on the island. I’ve had the pleasure of meeting and learning from great mentors, working with great scholars here at Trinity, and growing a lot from each and every experience. It has been fascinating to also learn more about the deep history and connections between the United States and Ireland and the pressing need to maintain and grow those relationships over the coming generation. Programs like the Washington Ireland Program and the Mitchell Scholarship will hopefully continue to build a generation of young leaders that will invest in a fruitful relationship between the two countries.

I had the pleasure of speaking to the Ad Astra Scholars at UCD about my experience as a Mitchell Scholar and one moment really stuck out to me. I asked the scholars how many of them viewed themselves as leaders and out of a crowd of 50 students, only about 2 raised their hands. I truly believe that Ireland needs to start creating a culture shift to empower young folks to think of themselves as leaders of this country and stewards of the next generation. A truly empowered class of young leaders will help spur the kind of innovation that produces long term growth and prosperity.”

After completing his masters program, Rishi will go on to work as a Director’s Financial Analyst with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB)
