Students seeking admission with credit from other universities and colleges are subject to the regular admissions procedures of the College, and must make formal application through the Admissions Office for admission to a particular degree course. Such students may be allowed credit for part of the degree course, as may be determined by the Senior Lecturer of the College having regard to their qualifications and academic record to date, and providing that places are available on that course at the appropriate level. In giving admission to such students the Senior Lecturer, in consultation with the head(s) of department concerned, may impose tests to establish the competence of the students in the course they propose to abridge.

One-year visiting students who may wish to formally transfer to Trinity College Dublin in the following year in order to complete their degree should note the following:

1. In order to apply for admission to an abridged course, they must already have successfully completed at least two years of study at a recognised college or university.
2. In addition to (1) above, a student may only be admitted to the final (Senior Sophister) year of a four-year degree course if they have successfully completed all the coursework and examinations prescribed for the third (Junior Sophister) year of that same course.
3. One-year students who satisfy (1) above and who have taken course work at Trinity College Dublin, but who have not successfully completed all elements prescribed for the third (Junior Sophister) year of the particular degree course to which they have applied, may be admitted to the second (Senior Freshman) or third (Junior Sophister) year of the course, as appropriate, and proceed normally from that point to qualify for a degree.

Incoming visiting students who consider that they may subsequently wish to apply for transfer to Trinity College Dublin are advised to consult the head or visiting student co-ordinator of the relevant department(s) about their choice of courses before the commencement of the Michaelmas lecture term.
