Two minutes with Jeanne

Jeanne Delgado came to Melbourne from Emory University in the United States. She tells us about her study abroad experience.

I COULDN’T IMAGINE A MORE FULFILLING EXPERIENCE
“My program was designed around an independent research project at Bio21, which is a research institute at the University of Melbourne specialising in medical, agricultural and environmental biotechnology. It was the perfect combination of successfully learning how transient science is internationally and getting to know the faculty and fellow students that I worked with every day.”

I LOVED LIVING AT COLLEGE
“I was fortunate to live at St Hilda’s College at the University. It was the definition of a community with a cafeteria, library, lounge/living room, gym and tutoring rooms with live-in tutors; you didn’t need to leave if you didn’t want to! I highly recommend living in a college as a study abroad student for the connections you’ll make, the endless resources, and opportunities for fun at all times.”

TAKE THE RISK!
“The idea of leaving behind friends you already have, extracurriculars you are committed to, and professors you know seems daunting. Yet the benefits you get from studying abroad truly make you forget ever having any hesitation or worry.”

AUSTRALIA WASN’T WHAT I EXPECTED
“I chose to go to Australia because I assumed I would be able to avoid the culture shock of going to a non-Western country. What immediately surprised me was how much of a distinct and unique culture Australia has that was completely unlike America.”

I MADE FRIENDS FOR LIFE
“I met one of my good friends while abroad, who personally showed me and two other exchange students the Great Ocean Road – Australian hospitality at its finest! In not being afraid to approach people, I was able to make friends I will have for life.”

MELBOURNE HAS SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE
“I have named Melbourne the ‘Most Liveable City in the World’ simply because it has something for every occasion. My favourite hangout had to be Brunswick Street, which is home to alternative clothing styles, heaps of small music venues, and a restaurant called Bimbos that sold $4 brick-oven pizza in a cool nightclub setting with good music and comfy couches.”
You’re going to love studying in Melbourne – a vibrant hub of style, sport, culture and fun.

SAFE AND FRIENDLY
Melbourne is one of the safest cities in the world to live, work and study. The locals are friendly, and the city’s multicultural vibe means you’ll instantly feel at home here. Whether you’re heading out for a bite to eat, exploring the parks and leafy boulevards or just catching the tram to uni, you’ll always feel secure and welcome.

SPORTING CAPITAL
Melbourne’s sporting calendar is packed with electrifying events. Cheer on your favourites at the Australian Open Tennis Championships, Formula 1 Grand Prix and Melbourne Cup Carnival, or head to the Melbourne Cricket Ground for the best Aussie Rules football experience.

A SHOPPER’S PARADISE
With locally designed originals and the best of international brands to choose from, Melbourne shoppers are spoilt for choice.

CLIMATE
The weather in Melbourne is mild and temperate all year round. In the summer, there are warm sunny days without the humidity of many other Australian cities. In the winter, it never snows in the city, but you’ll find excellent snowfields in the mountains just over two hours away.

- A 30 minute tram ride to St Kilda Beach.

OTHER CAMPUSES
The Southbank campus hosts the Victorian College of the Arts and part of the Melbourne Conservatorium of Music. It is centrally located in Melbourne’s cultural precinct, next to the National Gallery of Victoria and the Melbourne Theatre Company. Purpose-built for the creative arts, Southbank campus features sound and dance stages, animation studios, professionally equipped cinemas and visual arts studios.

We have five other campuses in Victoria providing specialist equipment and resources for students studying forest ecosystem science, agriculture, horticulture, rural health and veterinary science. They are situated in Burnley, Creswick, Dookie, Shepparton and Werribee.
LEARNING LABS
The Engineering Learning Lab supports technical group work in the fields, and our Biology Labs are equipped with audiovisual equipment to enable microscope, video and 35 mm slide images to be shared. The Information Systems Interaction Design, Evaluation and Analysis (IDEA) laboratory has been specially designed for conducting computer user experience tests and interactive research.

LIBRARIES
The University library network holds over 3.6 million items in 13 separate locations, and completes more than 42 million loan transactions each year.

E-LEARNING STUDIOS
eLearning studios are our most advanced learning environments, especially designed to support eLearning and collaborative practice within small groups. Our collaborative learning spaces offer an exciting educational, research and social environment that is ideal for group or independent study on campus.

25+ cafes
12 libraries
47 000+ students
The University of Melbourne’s study abroad and exchange program is flexible, allowing you to choose undergraduate and graduate subjects from most degree programs across our schools and faculties (subject to meeting normal subject prerequisites).

HOW MANY SUBJECTS CAN I TAKE?

You are required to take three to four subjects while at Melbourne to equal a total credit load of 37.5 to 50 points (each subject is usually worth 12.5 credit points). While you may have fewer contact hours than in your home institution, the demands placed on you to learn independently outside the classroom make the workload equivalent to that which most students experience at home.

For each subject, you usually attend a large lecture as well as a small group tutorial.

HOW AM I GRADED?

You will receive a University of Melbourne academic transcript approximately two months after the exam period for each semester you have completed. How your marks are translated is the responsibility of your home institution. Check with your home institution regarding their policy.

Below is a suggested translation scale for the conversion of University of Melbourne marks into Canadian, US or European grades (translation of results in other countries varies from one institution to another).

HOW AM I ASSESSED?

Students from some countries may be used to doing more regular written assignments than Australian students, but visiting students are often surprised at the rigour of the assessment marking.

Assessment may consist of lengthy papers, class or group exercises, case studies, projects, reports, oral presentations, or exams. One subject may only require two or three pieces of assessment. In some areas, up to 80 per cent of the assessment may be based on an exam at the end of the semester. Further information on how each subject is assessed can be found in the University Handbook:

Research projects require pre-approval and may be requested using these subject codes:
- Science (Botany, Chemistry, Earth Sciences, Vision Science and Zoology): SCIE30001
- Biomedical Science (Anatomy and Cell Biology, Microbiology and Immunology, Biochemistry and Molecular, Pathology, Pharmacology and Physiology): BIOM30003
- Environment: ENST30002

GOING PLACES, TRAVELLING SMARTER
Aimed at enhancing your travel experience, Going Places, Travelling Smarter is an interdisciplinary subject that will change the way you see the world. Lectures cover diverse topics such as cosmopolitanism, cognitive benefits of travelling, stereotyping, global and developing economies, environmental concerns, identity and alterity. We think this is the perfect subject for any study abroad and exchange student wanting to test their ethnographic skills!

Search for subjects

The Handbook is Melbourne’s searchable database of all courses and subjects. This is the best place to start when looking for subjects to study.
handbook.unimelb.edu.au

In the Quicksearch box, choose ‘Subjects’ to ensure you will see only subjects/classes and not degrees/courses in your search results. Type a topic that interests you, such as biology, marketing, or Australia.

Click ‘Display all results’ to see the full list. If the keyword you entered is in the title of the subject or in the description of the subject, the subject will appear on the list.

Click on the subject name to get more detailed information such as prerequisites or corequisites, assessment details, and timetabling. Make sure you have completed the prerequisites to ensure you are eligible to study the subject.

Laboratory/practicum is sometimes included under the primary subject name and description. Labs are not always offered separately. Review the subject description to learn the percentage of lecture and practicum time.

Confirm the subject will be offered during the semester you plan to be in Melbourne and note the subject name and code, as you will need this for your application.

There is no need for additional enrolment confirmation as space will be available for you if you are approved to study the subject. Once you arrive in Melbourne, you will confirm your choices with an adviser and choose the time to attend the subject.

Online Handbook

To apply for study abroad or exchange at Melbourne, you’ll need to identify the subjects you wish to study. You can search for subjects in our online handbook using the following tips.

Tips when searching for subjects

Where should you start?

Search all University of Melbourne subjects in the University’s Online Handbook:
handbook.unimelb.edu.au

Find breadth subjects

To find University breadth subjects, type ‘UNIB’ into the Quicksearch box in the Online Handbook.

Faculties and graduate schools

If you’re not sure which faculty or graduate school your study area fits into, look them up here:

unimelb.edu.au/az/faculties.html

Subject year levels

The first number listed in the subject code indicates the year of the subject:
- Numbers 1–3 indicate the subject is a first, second or third year subject in a Melbourne undergraduate degree
- Numbers 5–9 indicate a graduate level subject (not in any particular order)
- Number 4 usually indicates the subject is part of an honours degree (these subjects are not usually open to visiting students).

For example, HORT20012 is a second year undergraduate subject and BTCH90005 is a graduate level subject.

ORIENTATION AND ENROLMENT
The Orientation and Enrolment program marks the beginning of the University of Melbourne semester. This is the period where you enrol in your chosen subjects, become acquainted with the campus and facilities and, most importantly, meet other students. You can attend workshops and lectures covering topics such as cultural differences, adjusting to a new academic culture and how to explore Australia on a budget.

Your compulsory Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) will cover the cost of most treatments at the Health Service, including general consultations, pathology, x-ray or ultrasound. The clinic is a 5-minute walk from the Parkville campus. In addition, a number of hospitals in the inner city area provide care 24 hours a day.

There is a range of services to assist you to develop academic and English language skills during your stay. Assistance includes workshops and one-on-one appointments.

Run by students for students, MUSEX provides you with easy access to ‘locals’ and the opportunity to join a range of activities including surf trips, sports matches, dinners and nights out on the town.
MAKE FRIENDS AND SEE THE SIGHTS!
The Melbourne Welcome is a popular pre-orientation program designed for new study abroad and exchange students. Held on campus at a residential college and hosted by local students, it provides you with a fantastic transition into student and University life. Participants often tell us the Welcome provided some of their best memories from their stay in Melbourne!

Previous Melbourne Welcome programs have included Aboriginal heritage walks, a day on the coast learning to surf, jazz at dusk at the Melbourne Zoo, a trip to watch Aussie Rules football, cricket at the Melbourne Cricket Ground, and city and campus tours. Activities vary from semester to semester.

The Melbourne Welcome offers:
- Four nights’ accommodation and three meals per day in a residential college
- Activities and excursions
- Assistance from current University of Melbourne student hosts
- A chance to establish friendships before the semester starts
- A chance to see some of the sights, entertainment, and history of Melbourne.

DATES AND COSTS
The program is optional and runs twice a year in the week prior to the start of University orientation. Dates for 2015 are published on page 11. The cost of the program includes accommodation, food and all activities, but not other personal spending. The program fee is finalised by September/October for the following year and available on our website.

Talk to your home institution
Make sure you consult with your home university regarding their application requirements, deadlines and costs.

Choose your subjects
The Online Handbook is Melbourne’s searchable database of all courses and subjects. This is the best place to start when looking for subjects to study. Although you will only enrol in three or four subjects at Melbourne, you’ll need to select six in order to complete your application. See pages 10–15 for details.

Things to remember:
- Check with an academic adviser at your home university about approving subjects to make sure you will receive credit for subjects taken while in Melbourne.
- Review the section on faculty-specific requirements or subject prerequisites in the Handbook before listing the subjects on your application form.
- Make sure you understand all associated fees and are aware of any relevant deadlines.
