Appendix 1: Programme Handbooks - Core Content

Please note the order of items in the appendix is not prescriptive. Programmes should use their local expertise and student feedback to ensure items are in an order appropriate to their programme. This version of the Appendix applies to academic year 2024–25.

Please note that reference/source URLs may change due to the updating of policies.

Content of a generic nature can be provided in a stand-alone School/department handbook. See the School/department handbook template (Appendix 2).

| Teaching & Learning    | Explanation of ECTS Weighting                     | Standard Text: The European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System (ECTS) is an academic credit system based on the estimated student workload required to achieve the objectives of a module or programme of study. It is designed to enable academic recognition for periods of study, to facilitate student mobility and credit accumulation and transfer. The ECTS is the recommended credit system for higher education in Ireland and across the European Higher Education Area. | ECTS in undergraduate programmes: Guidelines   |
|                        |   | The ECTS weighting for a module is a measure of the student input or workload required for that module,   |  |

There is no intrinsic relationship between the credit volume of a module and its level of difficulty.  The European norm for full-time  | Reference/Source |
|                        |      | study over one academic year is 60 credits. 1 credit represents 20-25 hours estimated student input, so a 10-credit module will be designed to require 200-250 hours of student input including class contact time, assessments and examinations.  ECTS credits are awarded to a student only upon successful completion of the programme year. Progression from one year to the next is determined by the programme regulations. Students who fail a year of their programme |                  |
|                        |      | will not obtain credit for that year even if they have passed certain component. Exceptions to this rule are one-year and part-year visiting students, who are awarded credit for individual modules successfully completed.  |                  |
