What is Disclosure?

- Informing someone about your disability, specific learning difficulty or mental health difficulty

Disclosure is not just a label...

Understanding

- how you do something...

Knowing

- what accommodations work best for you and being able to talk about them...

Having

- A POSITIVE ATTITUDE encouraging others to get to know you, how you do things rather than what you are.

What does the legislation say?

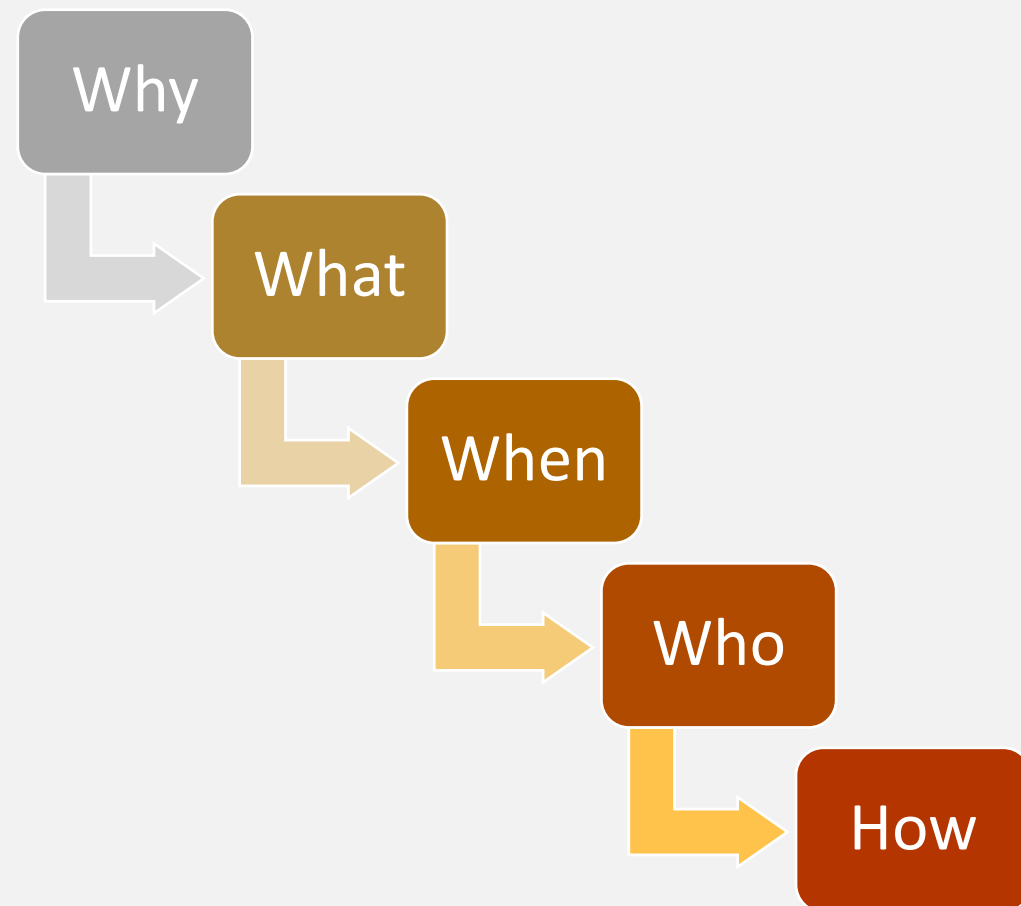

- Disability means:
 - a) the total or partial absence of a person's bodily or mental functions, including the absence of a part of a person's body;
 - b) the presence in the body of organisms causing, or likely to cause, chronic disease or illness;
 - c) the malfunction, malformation or disfigurement of a part of a person's body;
 - d) a condition or malfunction which results in a person learning differently from a person without the condition or malfunction; or
 - e) a condition, disease or illness which affects a person's thought processes, perception of reality, emotions or judgement or which results in disturbed behaviour."

What does the legislation say?

- Equal Status Act 2000
- Employment Equality Act 1998
 - Take appropriate measures unless the measures would impose a disproportionate burden when accessing or advancing in employment.
 - Adaptation of premises/equipment
 - Pattern of working time
 - Distribution of tasks
 - Provision of training

An Action Plan for Disclosing

Why disclose?

What will you disclose?

- If asking for something, it is necessary to give some background information
- Disclose relevant / useful information....
 - I have dyslexia and I need a piece of AT to enable me produce grammatically correct written work.
 - I have a mental health difficulty and I need more time off for medical appointments.
 - I have an ongoing illness which requires my workspace to be ergonomically set up.

When to disclose?

- On the application form?
- Before the interview?
- At interview with the employer?
- When I get a job offer?
- At the medical?
- When I'm on the job?

Who should know?

- Only tell those who need to know....
 - Line Manager
 - HR Staff
 - Health & Safety Officer
 - Team or Colleagues

How to disclose?

- Entirely up to you!
- Follow up on verbal disclosure with a written record if you are seeking reasonable accommodation

Remember...

- Your choice – but think about consequences;
- Be specific. Every person is different.
- Not sure – discuss your options!
- Prepare and practice. Think about what you want to say
- Be aware of supports
- Be aware of your strengths and skills!

We know that WAM Works!

- 80% secured full-time work within 12 months
- 94% of graduates gained confidence in their ability to work in a mainstream environment

If it wasn't for WAM, I would still be on the equivalent of the Disability Allowance which is €188 a week....
