

Remapping Trinity: A Literary Atlas of the University

12 and 13 April 2017, Trinity Long Room Hub (TLRH)

Wednesday 12 April

10.30-11am Opening reading by Mary Robinson, Chancellor of the University of Dublin: Neill Lecture Theatre, TLRH

11am-1pm 'Reading Place as it Passes': a workshop led by Niamh NicGhabhann, University of Limerick: Neill Lecture Theatre, TLRH

1-2pm Lunch: Hoey Ideas Space, TLRH

2pm Five Gates: an original promenade performance around campus directed by Amelia McConville, inspired by writing from and about Trinity, with guest readings from Gerald Dawe and Paula Meehan and music from the Trinitones: Assemble outside TLRH at 2pm. Performance lasts approximately 45 minutes.

4pm Tea and coffee: Hoey Ideas Space, TLRH

4.30pm History & Collections Roundtable: a discussion of the architectural and material histories of Trinity College, with David Dickson (History), Jane Maxwell (Old Library), and Edward McParland (History of Art and Architecture): Neill Lecture Theatre, TLRH

Thursday 13 April

10.30-11am Tea and coffee: lobby of Neill Lecture Theatre, TLRH

11am-1pm 'Writing Place': a workshop with the writer Nathan O'Donnell: Neill Lecture Theatre, TLRH

1-2pm Lunch: Hoey Ideas Space, TLRH

2-4pm Audio Tour of campus: produced by students in collaboration with Fiona Hallinan, this tour will guide you on a walk around Trinity, as you listen to the sounds and stories of the university through time: MP3 players and headphones available from TLRH reception from 2pm. Tour lasts approximately 30 minutes.

4pm Tea: Hoey Ideas Space, TLRH

4.30pm Literature & Culture Roundtable: a discussion of Trinity's literary and artistic lives, with Gerald Dawe (English), Rachel McIntyre (Douglas Hyde Gallery), and the writer Caitriona Lally: Neill Lecture Theatre, TLRH

6.30pm Wine reception and a closing address by the Provost, Patrick Prendergast: Hoey Ideas Space, TLRH

Taking place as part of Trinity Week 2017, Remapping Trinity: A Literary Atlas of the University is a two-day programme of events dedicated to exploring ideas of place and space by exploring Trinity College itself, and the buildings, objects, and stories which have shaped its past and present. The event has been made possible thanks to the generous support of the Strategic Fund of the Faculty of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences, the School of English, the Trinity Long Room Hub, and the Faculty of Health Sciences.

Special thanks are also due to:

Eavan Boland, Angela Bruni, Philip Coleman, Tom Creed, Aileen Douglas, Matthew Douglas, Martin Doyle, Siobhán Dunne, Martin Dyar, Lena Ferguson, Paul Ferguson, Estelle Gittins, Fiona Hallinan, Clodagh Hynes, Emily Johnson, Nick Johnson, Darryl Jones, Mary McCarron, Niamh McSweeney, Jay Mulhall, Paula Meehan, Caroline O'Shea, Madeleine Saidenberg, Maurice Sadlier, Ian Sansom, Gisèle Scanlon, Melissa Sihra, Sharon Sutton, Catherine Talbot, Ilgın Türköz, Guy Woodward, and all our actors, musicians, audio tour guides, and stewards.

Remapping Trinity has been organised by Julie Bates and Rosie Lavan of the School of English, TCD. We would welcome contact from others interested in or working on the ideas which these events explore. For more information, or to get in touch, visit: <https://remappingtrinity.wordpress.com/>