

ABUELAS (2012)

Noemi Weis

Productora, Documentalista-Cineasta

Born in Buenos Aires and educated in Argentina and Canada, Noemi brings her skills and love for humanity to every project. She continues to create and develop films to promote human rights and social justice. She has spent over 20-years telling stories on the big and small screens, from her worldwide advertising projects to her award winning documentaries. Her Directorial Debut is the documentary called Abuelas (“Grandmothers on a mission”, 2012) winner of the Jury Award from the International Competition at the International Festival of Cinema Politico in Buenos Aires, Nominated by the 2013 Yorkton Film Festival in the Arts and Politics Competition, premiered at the Female Eye Film Festival in 2012 and it has recently been selected by Women Make Movies from New York for their 2013 catalogue among 20 of the 800 entries submitted. Filmblanc is an international production company, created in 1998 headed by Noemi Weis, dedicated to create and produce socially relevant films.