TSM Course TR001

- 1. What is a Two-Subject Moderatorship degree?
- 2. What kinds of subjects can you choose?
- 3. Why choose TSM?
- 4. What kind of careers could a TSM graduate go into?
- 5. How do you apply for TSM?

What is a
Two-Subject Moderatorship?

A joint honours degree by another (quaint) name

- Joint = two subjects
- Moderatorship = honours degree

What is a Two-Subject Moderatorship?

- You combine the study of two subjects, selected from a very wide range of possible choices.
26 subjects...183 combinations
- You can study according to one of two Patterns: Pattern A or Pattern B.

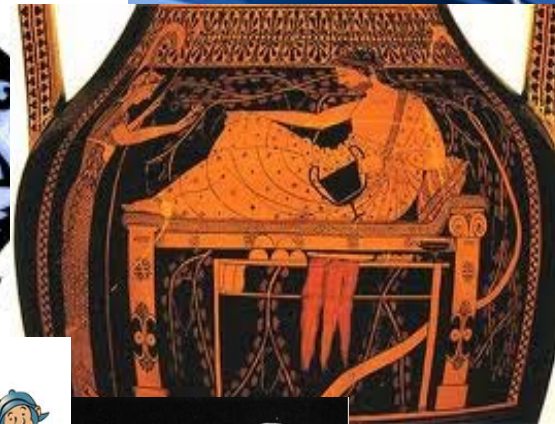

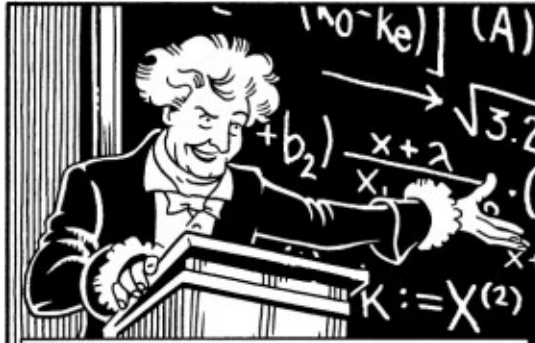

Pattern A: Both subjects studied for four years.

Pattern B: Both subjects studied for three years and one subject in the fourth year.

Pattern A is only available in a small combination of subjects

What kinds of subjects can you choose?

Why choose TSM?

- because of the value of the subjects themselves
- because of the structure of the degree programme
- because of other skills you will learn

TSM Course TR001

Why choose TSM at TCD?

Because of the value of the subjects themselves:

- You enjoy the subjects; you like studying these subjects; they excite you and make you want to know more; you have a particular aptitude for the subjects...
- You know that you want to combine these two subjects.
- You want to try a new subject.
- You want to spend your time in College broadening your horizons and exploring new avenues

Why choose TSM at TCD?

Because of the structure of the degree programme:

- TSM offers you a broad range of subject combinations: it is broader than single honours and more focused than the courses offered in BESS or Sciences
- You can choose your subjects when applying
- It is a four-year degree programme
- It is an Honours Degree in two subjects, with the chance to specialise in one or both
- There is the option of studying abroad for up to one year: fully accredited as part of your degree.

Why choose TSM at TCD?

The stimulation of studying alongside fellow students doing a wide range of different combinations, bringing to your subject all the ideas and approaches they have learned in their other subjects.

TSM Course TR001

Why choose TSM at TCD?
Because of other skills you will learn

A word cloud of skills learned in the TSM course, arranged in a circular pattern. The words are: communication skills, presentation skills, motivation and drive, interpersonal skills, team-working skills, creativity skills, problem-solving skills, initiative, flexibility, independence of mind, and critical intelligence.

Where will a TSM degree take me?

- Some 50% of all graduate jobs advertised do not specify a particular degree subject.
- For many careers how well you do in your degree is more important than having studied a particular subject.

So:

- 1. Choose subjects that really interest you, so that you make the best of your four years.
- 2. Be ready for further study, training and job mobility.

TSM Course TR001

Sectors TSM graduates work in

A word cloud of various career sectors. The words are arranged in a roughly circular pattern, with some words being larger and more prominent than others. The colors of the words include shades of blue, green, yellow, and red. The sectors listed are:

- Journalism/Media
- Education/Teaching
- Publishing
- Interpreting/Translating
- Legal
- Finance
- Library
- Information
- Travel/Tourism
- Software Localisation
- Arts/Culture
- Administration
- Marketing/Sales
- Public Service
- Development/Aid Work
- Administration

Applying for TSM

- Decide which subjects YOU want to study;
- Check prerequisites (some subjects require a previous qualification);
- Check the combination exists;

Two-Subject Moderatorship (TSM/TR001): Permitted combinations and CAO course codes

TR001 must NOT be entered on the application form.

Each possible combination of two subjects has a unique three-digit code. TR followed by the three-digit code of your chosen TSM combination should be entered on the application form, e.g. TR289 for French and German.

The absence of a code in a grid position indicates that the corresponding combination of subjects is not permitted.

Note: Students are not permitted to commence two new languages, see page 40.
