“How innovation and science policy can inspire entrepreneurship to solve real world problems”

On the afternoon of 14th November, a US delegation will visit TBSI. As part of the visit there will be an event in the Tercentenary Hall. The contingent will consist of US political representatives of Secretary of State Hilary Clinton and up to 25 US industry personnel. There will be talks by Dr Kerri-Ann Jones and Kris Balderston followed by a Q&A session.

- Kris Balderston, Secretary Clinton’s Special Representative for Global Partnerships.
  Kris holds his BA in Political Science from LeMoyne College and his MA in Government from Georgetown University

- Dr Kerri-Ann Jones, Assistant Secretary of State for Oceans and International Environmental and Scientific Affairs
  Dr. Jones obtained her Ph.D. from the Department of Molecular Biophysics and Biochemistry at Yale University, where she studied the effects of stress on protein expression and metabolism, using nuclear magnetic resonance. Before her graduate study, she worked as an assistant for research at the Rockefeller University in immunology and development biology. She holds a bachelor’s degree in chemistry from Barnard College, Columbia University.
