Customer Management Leadership Group

The Customer Management Leadership Group (CMLG) is a network of senior executives from non-competing companies who share a common objective of achieving organisational excellence in Customer Management.

The Group is directed by Trinity Business School (TBS) and provides a unique blend of leading edge academic thinking with proven practitioner experience.

Executive Summary

The Trinity Business School Group will have six to eight non-competing companies to facilitate knowledge transfer. The programme commences in September each year with subsequent Masterclasses in November, February, April and June. The themes for each Masterclass are chosen by the members at the first meeting, thereby ensuring their relevance to the Group.

Normally two people, not necessarily the same two, represent the company at each session. A consulting day towards the end of the programme is intended to reinforce the application of the acquired knowledge and provide further guidance where necessary.

FEATURES OF MEMBERSHIP

- A unique feature of the programme is that members influence the content by selecting the issues that they want to have addressed. This ensures the customisation and relevance of the Masterclass themes.
- Members send two delegates to each Masterclass where the latest thinking on Customer Management is reviewed alongside current Best Practice. Each Masterclass addresses a specific theme.
- Members have access to a dedicated platform website assigned to the activities of the Group and containing the outputs from all Masterclasses.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

- NETWORKING:

The Group gives members access to a network of like-minded senior management across a wide range of sectors.
