Classics handbook for visiting students
Academic year 2022/23

1. Further information about the modules (courses) listed below can be found in the visiting student module directory at https://www.tcd.ie/students/orientation/visiting-exchange/module-directory/Classics.php and the departmental website, https://www.tcd.ie/classics/ (search for the module code to find modules). If these sources do not answer your questions, please contact the Classics study abroad coordinator, Dr Martine Cuypers, cuypersm@tcd.ie.

2. Module codes correspond to degree years: CLU1XXXX = BA year 1 (introductory), CLU2XXXX = BA Year 2 (intermediate), CLU3XXXX = BA year 3 (intermediate), CLU4XXXX = BA year 4 (advanced).

3. Modules in Ancient History, Art and Archaeology, and Classical Civilisation require no knowledge of Latin or Greek.

4. Modules marked in red can only be taken with prior approval of the Classics study abroad coordinator: please send an email to cuypersm@tcds.ie and explain how your prior learning has prepared you to take these advanced-level modules. If you enrol in red modules without prior permission, you will be de-enrolled and may miss out on other modules if they become oversubscribed before you can submit a new enrolment form.

5. Full-year modules cannot be taken by one-semester visiting students. One-semester students who sign up for a full-year module will be de-enrolled and may miss out on the opportunity to take the one-semester variant of the module in question.

6. The maximum credit load per semester is 30 ECTS credits. You cannot enroll in more. If you are not sure if a module is right for you, please attend the first lecture and only then make your enrolment decision.

7. Assessment for visiting students is the same as for degree students. It is not possible to make alternative assessment arrangements. Assessment forms vary per module and can consist of coursework completed during the term (essays and other written assignments, in-class tests and quizzes) and an examination paper in the revision and assessment weeks at the end of the term. The assessment requirements for each module will be specified by the co-ordinator/lecturer at the start of the module.

8. Attendance at all lectures, seminars and tests and submission of all assignments is compulsory and satisfactory participation is required for successful completion of all modules.

9. If you find a module online which is not included in the lists below, it is either not taught in 2022/23 or not available to visiting students; in either case you cannot enrol in it.

10. Timetables for all modules will be available on mytcd.ie from early September 2022.

11. Questions? Please contact Dr Martine Cuypers at cuypersm@tcd.ie.
