Module Name	Classics Research Project
ECTS Weighting	5 ECTS
Semester taught	Semester 1 or 2
Module Coordinator/s	Dr Ashley Clements
Module Learning Outcomes with embedded Graduate Attributes	On successful completion of this module, students should be able to: LO1. Develop and pitch a suitable idea for a meaningful and manageable research project, identifying appropriate aims, outcomes and outputs LO2. Write, manage and execute a project plan with tasks, deadlines and deliverables LO3. Work effectively in a small team (if applicable) LO4. Critically evaluate ancient texts and/or artistic sources relevant to the project, with attention to their content, genre, style, and the historical and cultural contexts in which they were produced and received LO5. Evaluate relevant critical and artistic approaches to ancient texts and/or artistic sources relevant to the project LO6. Conduct a project evaluation and capture learning
Module Content	This module will give you an opportunity to conduct further independent research inspired by your engagement with an aspect of Greek or Roman literature and civilisation. Your project must be a written output that marks the culmination of a programme of scholarly research. It could be a paper or a commentary on ancient sources or a reception of ancient culture. Supported by the module coordinator in five contact hours, you will design, prepare, execute and evaluate your research project, individually or in a team. Assessed will be not only the project output but also your organisation of, reflection on, and evaluation of the project work, and how you explain the idea and aims of your project, its relation with the classical world, and the process of its development.
Teaching and Learning Methods	Practice-based individual or group project. Suggested schedule: Week 1: discuss of ideas and possible approaches Week 3: submit and discuss project plan Weeks 6 and 8: meetings to discuss progress Week 10: oral presentation of the project and feedback Week 13: submission of final output with analytical commentary and evaluation
