

My First Day at Nursery

I am very scared to be in a new place,
But hopefully I will see a familiar face.

My Mom drops me off with a kiss and a hug,
And I want her to stay so I stamp and I tug-
At her warm furry jumper and soft pair of jeans,
So she wipes my tears and my face she cleans.

She is soon gone away
And I have to stay,

So I do what she told me,
And try be a bee,

A fun, friendly, happy little bee,
Who has no worries and lives in a tree.

Although I have no tree or wings at all,
I stand up straighter, I stand up tall,

I play all day,
And my fears go away,

I make new friends,
And the fun never ends.

One little boy, his name was Tom,
Told me that the nursery was older than his Mom!

Another girl Sam,
Who loved to eat jam,

Said that squirrels and pigeons,
lived all around.

Are you starting school?
Are you a bit scared?

Well don't forget to be a bee,
But maybe don't eat too much honey!

And if you're really worried, hang on tight Look for the squirrels and pigeons and you will be alright!

Author: Sarah Fitzgerald Illustrator: Kerry O' Callaghan.

