General course information

Important information on COVID-19 restrictions and modes of teaching and learning

In order to offer taught programmes in line with government health and safety advice, teaching and learning in Semester 1 up to reading week for your programme will follow a blended model that combines online and in-person elements to be attended on campus. This blended model will include offering online lectures for larger class groupings, as well as in-person or online classes for smaller groups. The differing modes of teaching and learning for particular modules are determined by your home School. Information on the modes of teaching and learning during the second part of Semester 1 and in Semester 2 will be available closer to the time.

Registered students are expected to be available to attend in-person teaching activities. Any request not to attend in person for exceptional reasons (such as travel restrictions or underlying health conditions) will be considered on a case-by-case basis by the relevant Head of School in consultation with College Health and there is no guarantee that these requests can be facilitated. It will depend on whether the programme learning outcomes and modes of assessment can be met through remote attendance.

For those students not currently in Ireland or planning to undertake travel before the start of term, if they are returning from a country that requires mandatory hotel quarantining or self-quarantining/isolating on arrival in Ireland, they are expected to allow for the period of restricted movement after arrival and prior to commencement of their studies, and therefore should factor this into their travel plans.

We would ask all students to adhere to the safety protocols when on campus for in-person teaching activities or student club and society events, i.e., mask wearing, hand washing, cough etiquette and to maintain social distancing. Please do not congregate outside lecture or tutorial rooms after your classes; we would ask you to exit the building immediately after your event has finished. When term starts on 13 September (or 27 September for first years), students will be permitted on campus for any in-person events that they are involved in. Access to campus will be via a valid student ID card.

Introduction

Welcome to Film at Trinity College Dublin, the University of Dublin!

Students can study Film in a number of ways over the course of their Trinity undergraduate degree via single honors, joint honors or new minor subject pathways or as part of a Columbia-Trinity Dual Degree. Film courses allow students to sample a wide range of film and digital media texts and become fully immersed in the intellectual currents that flow in and around them. From the beginning, questions of history, theory and context combine with issues of close analysis and interpretation to provide a course that is both rigorous and rewarding. From the Senior Freshman years, students will be introduced to the basics of screenwriting and film production.

This handbook is designed to help you navigate your undergraduate course and to describe the facilities and functions of the Department of Film in the School of Creative Arts. It is intended to complement information found in the University Calendar.

Academic Year Structure
Timetable

Timetables are available online via your online portal https://my.tcd.ie. Formal communications from College will be sent to you via this portal which will give you access to an ‘in-tray’ of your messages. Fee invoices/payments, student levies, commencement fees and any payments will be processed via this portal. Examination results will be published to this portal also.

Online resources for all modules that students are enrolled in, including full module descriptors and compulsory reading lists, are stored in MyModule http://mymodule.tcd.ie/.

You are required to check your Trinity email address http://myzone.tcd.ie regularly as this is the primary mode of communication between staff and students outside of scheduled meetings.

Staff members deal with very high volumes of email correspondence so please include your name in the subject line and a phrase that makes the purpose of the email clear. If the matter is urgent, make sure to explain the reason for the urgency.

It is reasonable to expect a response from teaching staff between three and five working days after an email has been sent. If you have not received a reply by then a follow-up email may be useful. Please note that emails that require careful consideration may take longer to process.

Scholarships

Foundation scholarships

Each year, before Hilary Term begins, Senior Fresh students may present for the Scholarship Examination. The Scholarship Examination recognises and rewards exceptional academic ability. The Scholarship examination is a searching examination, suitable for the Senior Fresh level, of two papers. To be awarded a Scholarship a candidate must have an average mark of 70% or higher, and in addition the grade profile of the candidate should indicate a majority of first class marks. Please consult the Examinations Office webpage for information regarding applying to sit the Scholarship Examination. Students considering taking the Scholarship Examination may arrange an appointment with a member of staff to discuss the examination process.

Prizes, medals and other scholarships

Gold medals are awarded by the Board to candidates of the first class who have shown exceptional merit at the degree examination in honor or professional courses (see www.tcd.ie/academicregistry/exams).

Various studentships, scholarships, exhibitions, and other prizes are awarded to students on the results of honor and other examinations, provided that sufficient merit is shown. Monetary awards are sent directly to prizewinners unless otherwise stated under the regulations for the particular prize.

A book prize is awarded to each candidate obtaining an annual result of an overall first class honors grade in an honor course. These prizes are not awarded in the Senior Sophister or final year. Book prizes may be collected from the Academic Registry by the award holder in person.

Financial assistance
In addition to awards made from funds tied to schools or departments, the College assists undergraduate students in good academic standing who are in need by three main forms of financial assistance (benefactions, Student Hardship Fund and ESF Student Assistance Fund). Financial need is determined by reference to parental income and family circumstances.

Registration
Students in Year 1 of Film Single Honors pathway will be invited during the Trinity term to register their interest for taking up a new subject in Year 2.

Students will then be invited at a later date to register for other Year 2 modules, including Trinity Electives and Open Modules. Students will be advised of how to do this, and where they will find relevant module information several weeks before they are invited to register. Timetabling may restrict the availability of modules to individual students.

Students in Year 2 in all pathways will be invited during the Trinity term to indicate their preferences for Year 3 of their studies, including Trinity Electives and Open Modules as per their course structure.

Students will be advised of how they will do this and where they will find relevant module information several weeks before they are invited to register. Timetabling may restrict the availability of modules to individual students.

Academic Writing

Plagiarism and referencing guide

It is clearly understood that all members of the academic community use and build on the work and ideas of others. It is commonly accepted also, however, that we build on the work and ideas of others in an open and explicit manner, and with due acknowledgement.

Plagiarism is the act of presenting the work or ideas of others as one’s own, without due acknowledgement.

Plagiarism can arise from deliberate actions and also through careless thinking and/or methodology. The offence lies not in the attitude or intention of the perpetrator, but in the action and in its consequences.

It is the responsibility of the author of any work to ensure that he/she does not commit plagiarism.

Plagiarism is considered to be academically fraudulent, and an offence against academic integrity that is subject to the disciplinary procedures of the University.

The following actions are required of all students in the School of Creative Arts:

2. Familiarise yourself with the declaration that you will be asked to sign when submitting course work at http://tcd-ie.libguides.com/plagiarism/declaration

All essays/assignments require a clear and coherent referencing system. It is essential that you provide evidence of the sources of any information you use in your essay/assignment that comes from elsewhere.
Two of the most common ways of doing this are by using footnotes or endnotes. Footnotes appear at the bottom of the page, and endnotes appear at the end of the document. Microsoft Word will automatically insert Footnotes and Endnotes for you using the “add reference” function.

Whichever system you choose to adopt you must ensure that your notes are as complete and consistent as possible. Pay particular attention to page numbers; the reader should be able to trace precisely the location of all quotations that you make in the essay, if required.

The official style guide for Film is the Chicago Manual of Style, which you will find online at: http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html (Notes and Bibliography option).

Film Studies specific requirements are:

- Film and book titles should be italicised.
- After the first mention of a film character, you should include the actor’s name in brackets.
- After the first mention of a film, you should provide the director’s name and date of release in brackets.

You should also include an alphabetical list of ALL films viewed or referred to in your essay as a filmography. This should follow your bibliography.

Example:

Blade Runner (Ridley Scott, 1982)

Double Indemnity (Billy Wilder, 1944)

Paris, Texas (Wim Wenders, 1984)

Research ethics

The School of Creative Arts reviews research projects by staff and students to align with good practice in research ethics, following guidance detailed on https://www.tcd.ie/research/dean/research-ethics/. Ethics submissions for research in creative arts are rare but assessed by School/Faculty Research Ethics Committees. Ethic submissions are not usually necessary for undergraduate dissertations but if you believe any planned submission requires ethical approval, please discuss same with appropriate staff.

Programme architecture

Available pathways are subject to change and may be dependent on results subject to capacity.

New/repeating JS students registered in academic year 2021/22 are subject to the new Trinity Education Pathways under a Common Architecture system. Continuing SS students continue to pass through Trinity under the standard SH/TSM architecture.

Information about the new academic structures, affecting students entering from 2019 onwards, may be found at https://www.tcd.ie/courses/undergraduate/your-trinity-pathways/.
In the first two years of your degree, you will take compulsory modules only. In your sophister years, you will take a mixture of compulsory and optional modules.

<table>

<th>Continuing TSM/SH SS students</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>JS result : SS result</td>
<td>30:70</td>
<td>50:50</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In your Junior Sophister year, if you are a continuing TSM student, you will be able to choose which subject of your Two Subject Moderatorship you will major in. Your final degree (Single Honours & TSM) is weighted 50-50 between your Junior and Senior Sophister years. The final degree result for students passing through Trinity under the new Common Architecture will be 30:70 JS:SS.

Programme structure and workload

Module details including term, lecturer, duration and course materials are provided in full to students online in MyModule http://mymodule.tcd.ie/. Students are expected to complete additional self-directed learning/research appropriate to the ECTS weighting of the module as outlined below:

- 5 ECTS = 100-125 hours of student input
- 10ECTS = 200-250 hours of student input
- 20 ECTS (Capstone) = 400-500 hours of student input

Students will be guided through module choice via online module enrolment and can contact Convenors for guidance on module choices linked to pathways as they navigate their degree.
Module availability is subject to timetabling/resource constraints. The below represents modules that are scheduled for delivery in 2021/22 academic year:

Content warnings
As part of the study of film, and acquiring the critical skills to decode screen media, students will experience a wide range of films and scholarship over the course of their degree. Some of these materials will represent or analyse content of a sensitive nature. In advance of required screenings, students are encouraged to research a film’s content, as appropriate, using resources such as commonsensemedia.org and IMDb.com. If a student has a medical or personal reason why they should not watch or discuss a specific topic then they can discuss this confidentially with their college tutor, who can liaise with lecturers or the Head of Department if necessary.

Study abroad/ERASMUS
Study abroad/visiting student co-ordinator 2021/2022 = Dr Conor O’Kelly okellyco@tcd.ie

The School of Creative Arts participates in a number of exchange schemes with other universities. It is possible for some students to take their JS year abroad. This possibility is dependent upon the course requirements for each of your subjects being fulfilled. Students should also be aware of the possibility that certain subject combinations can complicate the exchange procedure.

Students should contact your Year Convenor (JF/SF) for further information and advice. It is advisable to do this well in advance, as early in the SF year as possible.

Outgoing exchange students must have their academic programmes abroad approved by Dr O’Kelly and should stay in contact with Dr O’Kelly during their time abroad to ensure their academic programme satisfies Trinity requirements, particularly in relation to the number of credits (ECTS) earned.

Prerequisites include:

- Students must achieve an overall grade of 2.1 or higher in their JF year;
- Student exchanges are approved provisionally during Hilary Semester, but will not be finalised until marks have been published
  - Students given preliminary permission to study abroad who do not earn an overall course mark of at least 2.1 in SF year will not usually be allowed to take up their places in the planned exchanges.
- Where there are more applicants than places for a given exchange institution, priority will be given to students on the basis of highest Junior Fresh marks.
- Students who receive a Non-Satisfactory or fail to submit any piece of course work during their Fresher years may forfeit their eligibility to study abroad.

After studying abroad, students are responsible for ensuring their marks arrive in the Department of Film office (c/o Imogen Pollard) as soon as possible.

Learning outcomes

On successful completion of the Film programme, students should be able to:

• Synthesise their comprehensive knowledge of film and digital media studies within a wider economic, industrial, aesthetic and socio-cultural context;
• Analyse current issues within film and digital media studies within the broader context of contemporary intellectual currents;
• Interpret film and digital media texts and related texts informed by up-to-date debates surrounding media and representation;
• Critically apply and appraise the principles of scriptwriting and digital video production in a practical and creative context;
• Pursue independent research and evaluate the relevance of that research to the current state of the art and discipline;
• Progress to further study and engage in research of an increasingly autonomous kind;
• Speak and write effectively in the discourse of the discipline.

<td>The capstone project — though defined differently by different subjects — is the common element across all degree exit routes and is weighted at 20 ECTS. It requires a significant level of independent research by the student. It should be an integrative exercise that allows students to showcase skills and knowledge which they have developed across a range of subject areas and across their four years of study. It should result in the production of a significant piece of original work by the student. It should provide them with the opportunity to demonstrate their attainment of the four graduate attributes: to think independently, to communicate effectively, to develop continuously and to act responsibly.</td>

The capstone will be expected to show scholarly output commensurate with time that would otherwise have been spent on the equivalent of two x 10 credit modules or four x 5 credit modules (400 - 500 hrs). The topic area is proposed before the summer preceding the SS year, and supervision will be allocated such that the student is supported across the range of assessments making up the independent research project. |

Due to the collaborative nature of film, students may sometimes be marked on a group basis for practical work. It is conceivable that two students may submit individual work on a practical project for assessment in two different modules. Any student seeking individual assessment credit for a collaborative project must fully disclose to the lecturer to what precise extent the work can be considered the student’s own – issues of ethics (up to and including plagiarism) can come into play if clear parameters of intellectual and creative engagement are not established. Students should refer to School and College Policies and Procedures with regards to Research guidelines and ethical practices.

Coursework requirements

Modules may be assessed by any combination of essay, assignment, coursework and class participation. Practice-based modules may be assessed differently. It is your responsibility to ensure that you are aware of the assessment requirements for all modules. Assessment information will be distributed by module coordinators and will be available through MyModule http://mymodule.tcd.ie/.

Continuous assessment is part of the examination process. Essays and other continuous assessment work are therefore subject to the same regulations as work carried out under examination conditions. Feedback from lecturers will be given, including a grade as appropriate, but any grades awarded are only provisional: the external examiner and court of examiners have the right to amend all marks from the year. Sophister assessments must be resubmitted prior to the visit of the external examiner for their perusal.
Presenting coursework
There are formal requirements for the presentation and submission of assignments throughout your degree.

Presentation requirements:
- All essays/assignments must be word-processed
- Essays/assignments must be double-spaced
- Pages must be numbered on the bottom right-hand side
- Calibri, Arial or a sans-serif font size 12 must be used
- All submissions must have adequate margins at either side of the page

You must proofread your work carefully before submission.

Penalties will be applied to essays/assignments that do not adhere to specified word count or other specified requirements.

Word Count
All coursework must adhere to the word count requirements. Coursework that is more than 10% above or below the required word count may be penalised. Examiners are not required to read beyond 10% over the word limit. In addition, while footnotes are not normally included in the word count, excessive use of footnotes may be penalised.

Retention of Personal Copies
Students are advised that they are required to keep copies of all work submitted. Film will exercise extreme care in receipting assessment materials in those cases where a copy is required to be submitted to the office, but if work goes astray it will be the student’s responsibility to provide a copy to replace it.

Deadlines and Penalties
All assignments, presentations and capstone projects have deadlines for submission or set dates for performance. Coursework (including capstone projects) submitted after an assigned deadline without an approved extension will not be accepted. Non-submissions will be recorded as zero. This policy will be rigorously applied.
Attendance requirements
Film is a full-time undergraduate course to which students are expected to commit between 1200 and 1500 hours annually (i.e. between 40 and 50 hours per week for 30 weeks.

Attendance at lectures, seminars and practice-based classes is compulsory.

Students who miss classes will be referred to their tutors and in exceptional cases to the Junior Dean for disciplinary action. Some modules give marks for attendance and participation.

If you feel that you may miss a lecture or seminar, please email your Year Convenor directly. If you are ill and unable to attend, please submit a medical certificate to the Film Office via SharePoint https://tcdud.sharepoint.com/:f:/r/sites/TCDFilmStudies/Shared%20Documents/Med%20certs%20(2021-22)?csf=1&web=1&e=PrbYq1 within 10 days of your illness. If you are ill, but have not attended a doctor, please ask your tutor to do this on your behalf.

All attendance registers are given to Year Convenors who oversee the deduction of marks for unexcused absences which exceed the limit set for the module. Any requests for waiving penalties should be sent to the Year Convenor (NOT the module lecturer) with relevant supporting documentation. Information or clarification about departmental policies may be sought through contact with the Year Convenor. It is often useful to alert your convenor to relevant personal issues in addition to contacting your Tutor.

Absence from examinations

Trinity has specific procedures relating to absence from examinations.

There are formal University assessment sessions following the end of teaching term in semester one (in Michaelmas term) and following the end of teaching term in semester two (in Trinity term). Students are assessed at the end of semester one in all modules that are taught only in semester one and at the end of semester two in all year-long modules and all modules that are taught only in semester two. There is one reassessment session which is held at the beginning of Michaelmas term. Students are assessed in all failed modules from both semesters during the reassessment session.

The University reserves the right to amend assessment methods and the timetable for assessments for any reason and at any stage during the academic year. All teaching and assessments are subject to public health advice and guidance as and when issued.

Marking scale

The following institutional marking scale has been adopted for undergraduate degree and diploma courses:

| I = 70-100% | III = 40-49% |
| II.1 = 60-69% | F1 = 30-39% |
| II.2 = 50-59% | F2 = 0-29% |

The following criteria are a useful guide for the examination of undergraduate work:

First Class Honours (70-100)

- Excellent knowledge
- Exemplary structure and presentation
- Critical use of secondary material
- Independence of mind/imagination
- Consistent performance

85-100: work of exceptional merit, far in excess of what is expected of an undergraduate.

75-85: work of outstanding merit showing insight, profundity, and creative invention, characterised by involvement with subject matter, breadth of appropriate reference, and both conceptual and stylistic ability.

70-74: work of clearly superior standard that reveals a very high degree of understanding and exposition.

Second Class Honours (II.1) (60-69)

- Aware of full implications of the question
- Thorough knowledge of subject/text
- Analytic ability
- Good structure and presentation
- Good use of secondary sources

60-69: very good work characterised by coherence and relevance, soundness of argument, appropriateness of reference, depth of background knowledge and discrimination. Some qualities of First Class work may be in evidence but the difference will be in degree or realisation.
Second Class Honours (II.2) (50-59)

- Aware of implications of question
- Effective structure and presentation
- Solid and reliable/Sound knowledge

50-59: consistently solid work reflecting honest application and satisfactory achievement without completely attaining the creative invention or analytic depth associated with the higher grades. The work may be characterised by an over-reliance on secondary sources at the expense of personal involvement, confining itself to a narrow or predictable line of argument with a tendency to description rather than interpretative engagement.

Third Class Honours (III) (40-49)

- Understanding the question
- Satisfactory engagement with question
- Relevant knowledge
- Adequate presentation and capacity to articulate

40-49: work which demonstrates an adequate background knowledge but no consistent ability to investigate it in depth; an ability to sustain only a basic argument without sufficient analysis to achieve insight or coherence; repetitiveness, excessive reliance on secondary sources, imprecise expression or descriptive generalisation.

Fail (F1) 30-39

- Serious misunderstanding of question
- Minimal knowledge
- Incoherence.

The potential of the candidate to proceed to the next year is an important consideration in this grade. 30-39: a minimal level of attainment just below that of honours level indicating a failure to demonstrate most of the standards set out above.

FAIL (F2) 1-29

Written work in the F2 range will reveal some or all of the weaknesses noted under F1, but to a greater, perhaps extreme, extent.

1-29: insufficient level of attainment.
Non-Submission
0 - non-submission.

Transcripts

If you need a copy of your transcript, please email filmstds@tcd.ie with your student number, full course title, year of graduation and whether you need a paper or electronic copy. Please allow 3 weeks to generate this transcript and note that we are unable to courier transcripts so please allow enough time for the transcript to reach its destination by ordinary post.

Similarly, students who require references from lecturers should allow two to three weeks’ notice when asking staff members to serve as referees. You are urged to supply all information needed to fill in any forms and provide a description of the course/job you are applying to.

External examiner

The undergraduate external examiner for academic year 2021/22 will be confirmed soon. All precautions will be taken with personal data in the transfer of documentation to Prof Grant in compliance with GDPR regulations for transmission of data from ROI to UK.
