

International History Seminar Series

Spring 2019

Organizer: Molly Pucci

Wednesday, 30 January 2019, 18:00 – 19:30, Trinity Long Room Hub

The Italian-Chinese Silk Market, 1850-1915

Aglaia de Angeli, Professor of History, Queen's University Belfast

Tuesday, 12 February 2019, 18:00 – 19:30, Trinity Long Room Hub

The Nazis and Dixie

Glenda Gilmore, Professor of History, Yale University

Thursday, 28 February 2019, 18:00-19:30, Classics Seminar Room (B 6.002)

Enoch Powell in an industrial town: race, class and resistance in 1968

Shirin Hirsch, Professor of History, University of Manchester

Wednesday, 13 March 2019, 18:00 – 19:30, Trinity Long Room Hub

Why Transnational History Matters: The Case of German Atrocities: 1914.

Alan Kramer and John Horne, Professors of European History, Trinity College Dublin

Thursday, 21 March 2019, 18:30 – 20:00, Trinity Long Room Hub

Rethinking 1918: Interventions into the Future

Peter Apor, Hungarian Academy of Sciences

Tuesday, 2 April, 18:00-20:00, Synge Theatre, Arts Building

Eric Hobsbawm: A Life in History

Richard Evans, Cambridge University

Wednesday, 3 April, 18:00-20:00, Trinity Long Room

Triage and Trauma in the Relief Efforts of the American Missionary Community during the Lebanese Famine of the First World War

Tylor Brand, TCD, Department of Middle Eastern Studies