Trinity Centre for Early Modern History

Research Seminar Series Hilary Term 2019

Seminars take place at 5.00pm on Mondays in the Neill Lecture Theatre in the Long Room Hub building, Trinity College. All are welcome.

28 January  Dr Liam Chambers (MIC), Competing Communities: Irish Colleges, Clergy and Students in Paris, 1660-1685'

04 February  Dr Ruth Canning (Liverpool-Hope University) The Baron of Delvin and Frontier Identity in Late Elizabethan Ireland

11 February  Dr Tara Hamling (Birmingham) Visual Culture in Early Modern England

18 February  Professor Guy Rowlands (St Andrews) The Sinews of War, the Sun King, and the Financial Burdens and Perils of Being a Superpower”

25 February  Dr Christopher Pastore (Albany, NY/ TCD Long Room Hub) A Thousand, Thousand Slimy Things: A Natural History of the Sea from the Bottom Up

04 March  Study Week

18 March  Public Holiday

25 March  Prof. John Walter (Essex) A Tale of Two Cities: Galway, Waterford and the 1641 Rising

01 Apr.  Dr Eamon Darcy (Maynooth) "I got more by Cromwell than by them": Social memories of Oliver Cromwell in Ireland.

08 Apr.  Trinity Centre for Early Modern History Annual Lecture Prof. Ciaran Brady (TCD) ‘Addressing Brendan Bradshaw’

Convenors
Professor Jane Ohlmeyer, Professor Micheál Ó Siochru, Dr Robert Armstrong, Dr Graeme Murdock, Dr Joseph Clarke and Dr Patrick Walsh

Twitter @earlytcd For enquires contact Dr Walsh at Walshp9@tcd.ie