

School of Languages, Literature and Cultural Studies Trinity College Dublin TY Modern Languages Prize

The idea behind the competition is to encourage creative and critical thinking amongst TY students about why they would like to become fluent in a particular language (including at beginners level for all languages apart from French and Irish) as well as why they would like to learn about the culture and literature associated with the language.

How it works

- ❖ Students must design a creative poster which answers the question:

“Why we would love to be fluent in (language)...”

- ❖ There will be one winner for each of the following languages:
Arabic, French, German, Hebrew, Irish, Italian, Polish, Russian, Spanish, Turkish

Requirements

- ❖ Students must be in Transition Year
- ❖ Individual entries or team entries (between 3 and 5 students) will be accepted
- ❖ Entries should be in English or Irish and include elements from the language, culture and literature of the selected language.
