

Academic Awards Policy

1. Context

Trinity College Dublin, the University of Dublin, is a Designated Awarding Body whose awards are recognised nationally on the National Framework of Qualifications \(NFQ\), and internationally on equivalent frameworks. The University of Dublin is the awarding body for degrees and Trinity College Dublin is the awarding body for certificates and diplomas.

This policy should be read in conjunction with (and is subject to) the relevant provisions of the University Calendar and the 2010 Consolidated Statutes of Trinity College Dublin and the University of Dublin.

2. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to inform stakeholders that the University of Dublin and Trinity College Dublin have the power to create awards and to confer these awards on students following the successful completion of a programme of study.

3. Benefits

The certification of awards provides evidence of qualifications attained.

4. Scope

- 4.1 This policy applies to all awards made by the University of Dublin and by Trinity College Dublin (including those for validated programmes delivered by linked providers).
- 4.2 This policy applies to Dual and Joint awards delivered collaboratively with partner institutions, nationally and internationally.

5. Principles

- 5.1 Students are entitled to receive an award following the successful completion of a programme of study for which they are registered.
- 5.2 The authenticity of awards is verifiable.

6. Definitions

- 6.1 The National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ) is a system of ten levels used to describe the Irish qualifications system. The NFQ describes what learners should know, understand and be able to do on the basis of a given qualification (Ref. 9.4).

- 6.2 An award is an academic qualification (degree, diploma or certificate) conferred in recognition of the successful completion of a higher education programme of study, either at undergraduate or postgraduate level, and issued by a designated awarding body. The National Framework of Qualifications sets out the criteria for major and non-major awards. Non-major awards include, minor awards, special purpose awards and supplemental awards.
- 6.2.1 Major awards are the principal class of awards made at a given NFQ level and reflect a significant volume of learning, e.g. Honours Bachelor Degree (NFQ, Level 8), Master Degree (NFQ, Level 9), Doctorate Degree (NFQ Level 10).
- 6.2.2 Minor awards are for partial completion of the outcomes of a Major Award.
- 6.2.3 Special Purpose awards are made for narrow/purpose specific achievement, e.g. Special Purpose Certificate in Academic Practice.
- 6.2.4 Supplemental awards are for learning that is additional to a Major Award.
- 6.3 A certificate is a non-degree award granted upon successful completion of a prescribed programme of study.
- 6.4 A diploma is a non-degree award granted upon successful completion of a prescribed programme of study.
- 6.5 A degree is a major award granted upon the successful completion of a prescribed programme of study, i.e. Bachelors, Masters or Doctorate.
- 6.6 Certification is the process of verifying and evidencing educational achievements and awards through the issuing of transcripts and parchments.
- 6.7 An award parchment is evidence of the academic qualification attained and is presented to successful candidates at a Commencement/Diploma/Certificate ceremony.
- 6.8 A transcript is a detailed record of a student's studies, which confirms the course of study, period of registration, the modules that have been taken, the number of credits and grades achieved.
- 6.9 A linked provider is a provider that is not a designated awarding body but enters into an arrangement with a designated awarding body under which arrangement the provider delivers a programme of education and training that satisfies all or part of the prerequisites for an award of the designated awarding body (Ref. Qualifications and Quality Assurance \(Education and Training\) Act 2012).
