

The human remains removed from Inishbofin should be returned immediately and Berkeley's name should be removed from the library.

However the activities of Haddon, Dixon and Berkeley were viewed at the time is not relevant. In today's Ireland the actions of all three are abhorrent. This is why the remains should be returned to Inishbofin without delay, and why Trinity's main library should not commemorate and glorify Berkeley.

John Murray