

To whom it may concern,

I wish to re- name the X Library the Robinson Library, after Ireland's first female President, Mary Robinson. I wish to do so for the following reasons: firstly there is an under- representation of women in the naming of the university's buildings and libraries, in spite of the fact that we have many impressive female alumni, President Robinson being among them. Mary Robinson was also a person devoted to fighting race- based discrimination and building peace, particularly in Northern Ireland. These are the reasons as to why I have volunteered her name for the library.

Yours sincerely,

Sophie- Louise Carey.
