

Probabilistic Sensitivity Analysis in Excel

Abstract

The aim of this project was to conduct a Probabilistic Sensitivity Analysis (PSA) in Microsoft Excel to evaluate the impact of a new drug, based on its costs and utilities. This analysis should enable the client to determine whether the new drug is cost-effective. It will also provide the client with an alternative way of conducting PSA's through Excel rather than the software they currently use.