29th Bennett Lecture and Specialist Registrar Symposium

Professor Jeremy Nicholson
Chair in Biological Chemistry and Head of Department of Surgery and Cancer, St. Mary’s Hospital and Imperial College London

Making Surgery More Molecular: The Challenge of Putting Systems Biology into Clinical Practice

Venue: John Durkan Lecture Theatre, Institute of Molecular Medicine, Trinity Center, St James’s Hospital

Date: Wednesday, 24th of November 2010 @ 7.45 pm
Specialist Registrar Symposium:

5.30 pm: Colorectal Liver Metastases: State of the Art – State of the Nation

Tom Gallagher

5.50 pm: What about the children?

Deirdre Fanning

6.10 pm: Known knowns, known unknowns and unknown unknowns: Carotid Artery Disease in 2010

Catriona Canning

6.30 pm: Coronary artery bypass grafting versus percutaneous coronary intervention – Less is not always more.

Sarah Earley

6.50 pm: Genomic Profiling in Breast Cancer – Is TNM staging a thing of the past or part of the future?

Mary Morrogh

7.10 pm: Synchronous or sequential treatment of hepatic colorectal metastases.

Dara Kavanagh

All are welcome.

John V. Reynolds