

School of Social Sciences and Philosophy

News Item - Content Guidelines

Headline link - to Trinity/external webpage or PDF

Headline text - no longer than two lines long - 100 characters or less (incl. spaces) Avoid special characters such as the Euro symbol

School of Social Sciences and Philosophy Newsletter
Annual newsletter gives an update on student, academic and alumni news in the disciplines of economics, philosophy, political science and sociology.

2018 July 25

Impact of Brexit on shopping explored by Trinity PhD student

Kerri Agnew, a PhD student in the Department of Economics at Trinity, explores how changes in the euro-sterling exchange rate affect cross-border shopping between the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland in this piece on RTE's website.

2018 July 12

Former President Mary McAleese gives Henry Grattan lecture

The annual Henry Grattan lecture, hosted by the Embassy of Ireland in London, was delivered this year by former President, Mary McAleese, in conversation with RTÉ's Northern Editor, Tommie Gorman. The topic of the lecture was 'Ireland-UK relations, past, present and future'.

2018 July 4

Image - landscape format cropped to 160 x 100 pixels (px) with appropriate usage rights

Professor Andrea Guariso Publishes in the Journal of East African Studies

Professor Andrea Guariso, with Marijke Verpoorten (University of Antwerp), has published a paper on "Aid, trade and the post war recovery of the Rwandan coffee sector" in the Journal of East African Studies.

2018 June 28

Professor in Political Science, Raj Chari Launches New Report on Irish Government's Transparency

Prof Chari was chosen as an independent researcher, by Open Government Partnership, to evaluate the Irish Government's progress on its Action Plan 2016-18. His report shows no progress in anti-corruption measures but finds significant progress in governance of charities.

News story content - ideally no longer than 5 lines long – 300 characters or less (incl. spaces)

Story quantity – maximum 5 stories on the home page which cover a variety of topics and authors