Important BESS Rules (1)

Attend your lectures and tutorials!

Lectures and tutorials are compulsory!

- Students with significant level of absenteeism can be deemed non-satisfactory (“NS”) and prevented from sitting final examinations!

Some tests may take place during Michaelmas and Hilary Terms (e.g., in modules with continuous assessment).

COVID-19: Lectures take place online and tutorials largely online (in MT).
Check your timetables, module syllabi, and follow the instruction of module lecturers!

Attend your lectures and classes

“Expected” grade=>	I	II.1	II.2	III/Fail	Total
Virtually all (> 90%)	43%	49%	29%	14%	30%
Most (> 66% but < 90%)	43%	35%	46%	42%	40%
Around half (> 33% but < 66%)	14%	14%	21%	32%	24%
Not many (> 10% but < 33%)	0%	3%	1%	6%	3%
Hardly any (< 10%)	0%	0%	1%	0%	1%
Total	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%

Important BESS Rules (2)

Keep updated and communicate properly

Check your college emails daily!

Only use your official college email address (...@tcd.ie)

➤ You cannot expect response to private email accounts!

Be polite and respectful when writing emails to college staff

Write concise emails that state clearly your concern

➤ Always provide your course and student ID in emails!

➤ Configure a signature including your course name and student ID.

Important BESS Rules (3)

What to do if ...

... you are ill for tests and/or examinations?

- Absences are excused only with a medical certificate or equivalent (communicate with/via your College Tutor), need to do this immediately.
- Absence is not the same as getting zero. If you fail to turn up to an exam you need to explain it formally to the college through your tutor.
- The assumption is that if you sit an exam then you were healthy. Typically it is not possible to claim illness after an exam.

Important BESS Rules (4)

What to do if ...

... you are unable to submit an assignment on schedule?

- Contact your tutor and the lecturer concerned, preferably before the deadline.

... you are unable to attend a mandatory class?

- Contact your tutor and the lecturer concerned, preferably before the class is taking place.

Next week

- Two hours of lectures in each of the modules.
- In the first lecture the requirements and rules of the module will be explained, so make sure you attend.
- Usually, no seminars or tutorials in week 1 (but check module descriptions)
 - Seminar/tutorial groups assigned via SITS.
 - Only in exceptional cases, you can request a change of tutorial group by contacting the relevant departmental office (not the Course Office).

Soon / near future

- Get in contact with your College Tutor.
- Get in contact with Student 2 Student (S2S).
- Maintain steady progress with your modules.
- Check your college email regularly (communication from the Course Office will be via your TCD email address only).
- Get to know your classmates.
Be inclusive and have different friends.

Making your voices heard

- BESS: student representative in the programme committee.
- Students' Union: class reps who meet with individual Department Heads on a regular basis.
- Module evaluations by students: at the end of Hilary and Michaelmas terms. (http://www.tcd.ie/ssp/undergraduate/student-evaluations/YouSaid_WeDid.php)
- Each year is invited to partake in a Course Evaluation Survey.
- Problems with a module? – in general, if possible bring it up with the module lecturer in the first instance.
- Individual/personal problems? – discuss with your College Tutor and there's also the counselling service and peer-support offered by Student 2 Student (S2S).
