Studying at Trinity means joining over 400 years of tradition. With a city-centre campus and the oldest student societies in the world, Trinity students live, learn and engage far beyond the classroom. Many factors contribute to choosing the right university for you. The information in this booklet will help you picture your life as a Trinity student.

Hear why some of our international students chose Trinity...

“ I chose Trinity for Dublin's reputation on the international stage. A lot of big companies are coming here, Google, Facebook and LinkedIn. They all have digital marketing departments and I hope to be a part of one of their teams some day.

– Gregory Lepore, USA

“ I chose Trinity because of the international exposure it has and also because it's beautiful. It's hard to find a college which is situated in a locality or a country which speaks English as its origin.

– Smayana Harits, India

“ I chose Trinity because I studied abroad here three years ago and I haven't been able to get it out of my head since!

– Thomas O'Leary, USA

“ I chose Trinity because I think that it offers diversity with the multicultural students from a lot of different countries studying here.

– Paola Basulto, Mexico

“ I chose Trinity because I wanted to be on a beautiful, historical campus in a bustling city.

– Alison McGrail, USA

ACCEPT YOUR OFFER

To accept your offer, you will need to log into your my.tcd.ie portal account, accept your offer and then pay a deposit. This will hold your place and allow you to apply for university accommodation.

For students who require visas, you should pay the minimum payment amount required to secure a visa as your deposit. Your fee balance will be adjusted accordingly.

APPLY FOR ACCOMMODATION

www.tcd.ie/accommodation/getting-rooms

After your deposit has been processed, your application number will become your new student number. You can use that number to apply for Trinity accommodation via the website.

UPDATE YOUR ADDRESS

The offer letter you received in your my.tcd.ie portal is your official offer letter. In June, you will receive a welcome pack including an international student handbook. Please check your student record in the my.tcd.ie portal to make certain that we have your correct email and mailing address on file.

HOW TO PAY

Our preferred method of payment for international students is via Pay to Study, accessible at: tcd.paytostudy.com.

You will pay a deposit (amount dependent upon your course of study and visa requirements) when you accept your place. After the acceptance deposit has been received, you will receive an email to check your my.tcd.ie portal. An invoice for the balance of your fees will be presented to you in your portal. Due to card limits, multiple transactions may be required. If you prefer to pay the fees by electronic transfer, this can take up to ten working days to clear.

For more information on fee payment, please see: www.tcd.ie/academicregistry.

FUNDING & SCHOLARSHIPS

www.tcd.ie/study/international/scholarships

www.tcd.ie/academicregistry/fees-and-payments

Tuition fees vary by course and can be found on the Academic Registry website. A range of scholarships and funding options are available. Trinity accepts student loans and works with the US federal loan programme. Postgraduate students should be sure to check with their schools and departments for subject-specific funding. PhD students should discuss funding with their potential supervisors. Unless explicitly excluded, local scholarships and grants can be used towards Trinity fees. Please visit our website for more information on Trinity scholarship opportunities.

VISA INFORMATION

Residents of some countries, including the United States and Canada, do not require a visa to enter Ireland. The list of countries from which visas are required can be found here: www.dfa.ie/travel/visas/visas-for-ireland.

Visa applications can take over 2 months to process, so you should begin your application as early as possible. Trinity has no control or influence over visa issues but will advise where possible.

Whether or not you need a visa to enter Ireland, all non-nationals who are not citizens of an EU state, the EEA or Switzerland, must register with the Irish Naturalisation & Immigration Service (INIS) after arrival. Further details on immigration can be found online and will be provided in your student handbook.

Please note that you should print off your offer letter to show immigration officials when you arrive.

VISIT TRINITY

The best way to decide if Trinity is the right choice for you is to pay a visit to our Dublin city-centre campus. To arrange a campus visit, including meeting with a student ambassador and receiving a tour of the college, please visit: www.tcd.ie/study/international/visit.

When you fill out the visit form, please be sure to list your biggest questions, what course you've been accepted to and anything specific you'd like to discuss. This will help us plan the best possible visit for you and your family.

GRADUATE OPPORTUNITIES

WORKING IN IRELAND

Non-EU students registered on a degree course for at least one academic year can work up to a maximum of 20 hours per week during term and up to 40 hours per week during university holidays.

Further information can be found at:

www.icosirl.ie/eng/student_information/working_in_ireland

WORKING AFTER GRADUATION

After finishing an undergraduate degree, non-EU students can receive a stay-back visa, permitting you to work full-time for one year.

The Irish Government has also agreed to extend the Third Level Graduate Scheme. The new permission will double the 'stay-back visa option' for masters and PhD students from 12 months to 24 months. This will allow eligible graduates who have studied in Irish higher education institutions and whose award is granted by a recognised Irish awarding body at Masters PhD level to remain in Ireland for two years to seek employment.

HEAR WHAT OUR ALUMNI SAY

Trinity is committed to preparing its students for the ever-changing challenges of the 21st century workplace. Hear what some of our recent graduates had to say about their experience at Trinity.

Megan Yusko

Vornado Realty Trust Manhattan

Sociology and Social Policy, 2017

“ I think that Trinity is as much an education as it is an experience. Not only did I feel that I had a very satisfying academic career, I also think that the experience of studying at Trinity, as well as the history and identity associated with it is something that very few colleges have, making Trinity truly unique in that aspect.

Ian O'Connor

New Product Development, Apple Inc.

Chemistry, 2009

“ I currently work in the Special Projects Group at Apple as an engineering program manager. I feel that my PhD and degree at Trinity well prepared me for my role in managing projects, working with teams and understanding highly novel technical concepts and being able to assist in directing technology developments. Trinity is a world-class university with an amazing heritage, and is also located in one of the best cities in the world. The social and educational experience I had there continues to have a strong positive influence on my life.

Miguel Rodriguez Gorman

Strategic Communications, OECD

European Studies, 2007

“ I currently serve as the acting deputy director of the Washington DC office of a major intergovernmental organisation. Among many other things, my programme helped me become a more critical thinker, a better writer, and a more creative problem-solver, skills that are in great demand everywhere. Aside from being a world-class university, the global network of Trinity alumni is a tremendous value added.

Sinead Gangler

International Development, Deloitte

Business and French, 2004

“ I am a Senior Manager with Deloitte US in Washington, DC. I lead business development within our International Donor Organisations Account, specialising in our US Agency for International Development account. I get to travel to a wide range of countries while researching everything from expanding energy access to treating malaria. Trinity was very much a launching pad into my current career! The four years that I spent there were fun, challenging, and rewarding. I am exceptionally proud of my time there and I would encourage anyone to attend.

At Trinity, involvement in student and community organisations is integral to your education. The wealth of offerings allows every Trinity student to construct their own unique experience.

CLUBS & SOCIETIES

www.trinitysocieties.ie

A Trinity education values community engagement and global citizenship.

A great way to get to know people who share your interests, both in and out of the classroom, is by joining one of the 120 student societies, which cover everything from the Afro-Caribbean Society to the Zoological Society. Some societies, like the Business and Economics Society (DUBES), are subject-based, but you can join no matter what you study. Other societies, like the Photography Association or the Comedy Society, give all levels of photographers and comedians a place to practice, learn and show their work.

Among the most popular societies are the Philosophical Society ("the Phil"), dating from 1684 and the Historical Society ("the Hist"), dating from 1770, the oldest student societies in the world. Joining student societies is a great way to complement your classes and research, explore non-academic interests and gain valuable leadership experience.

At the start of the academic year, all the clubs and societies set up stands in Front Square and do their very best to enroll new members. It's a great way to see the range of activities available on campus and gets the year off to a buzzing start!
