Joseph Lanzillotta – USA
Undergraduate: Business

“Choosing Trinity to study business internationally and stand out as the only graduate of my 600-student high school class who chose a university outside of the United States. I ultimately turned down a full scholarship to an American university to attend Trinity. Dublin is an exciting city to live in and an easy one to get out of when you want to take a breath and enjoy Ireland’s natural beauty.”

Liam Grugan – USA
Undergraduate: Middle Eastern and European Languages and Cultures (Dual BA with Columbia University)

“My experience thus far in Dublin has been nothing short of romantic. Every morning, on my way to class, I pass the location of a photo taken of me on a tour of Trinity when I was five. I have already made loads of friends in my course just from hanging out on and off campus. Everyone at Trinity wants you to succeed: your tutors, lecturers, tutorials, peers, etc. are all hoping for you to thrive.”

Top FAQs

For US applicants

Applying

▶ What’s the top tip for applying from the US?
Firstly, reach out to your local Trinity representative. We have a number of in-country representatives that provide a host of supports, from individual meetings, video calls and group webinars, to help with all aspects of Trinity life. All our representatives can be found on the back cover of this guide or at: www.tcd.ie/study/country/usa.

▶ What percentage of students does Trinity accept?
We receive hundreds of US applications and can accept a much higher percent of qualified applicants than top US schools. Our rankings do not depend on percent of students accepted.

▶ Is a Trinity degree recognised in the US?
Our 4-year degree programmes are recognised globally. US employers have strong awareness of Trinity’s history of academic excellence. There are strong alumni networks in most major US cities and around the world, creating opportunities for mentoring and networking for all graduates.

Studying at Trinity

▶ Can I change my major?
Students apply and are admitted to a specific course. There are no “General Education” requirements; students begin their specific course of study immediately. Changes are made by students each year however changing to another course is challenging and uncommon. Changes are considered on a case-by-case basis.

▶ Do you have Study Abroad programmes?
Trinity offers the opportunity to study in over 250 universities around the world. Some courses, particularly those with language components, require that some time be spent outside of Ireland. Other courses may have direct links with corresponding departments in international partner universities. See www.tcd.ie/study/study-abroad for further information.

▶ How many students attend Trinity?
Trinity has about 13,500 undergraduate and 5,500 postgraduate students. Approximately 28% of students come from over 120 countries outside of Ireland. Students coming from the US make up approximately 5% of the total student body.

▶ What is the average class size?
Class size varies from course to course. Some large courses, like BESS (Business, Economic and Social Studies), will have 1st and 2nd year lectures of over 150 people, along with small-group tutorials of 15-20. Smaller courses like Art History or Classics will have smaller classes of 20-30. Third- and fourth-year modules will be significantly smaller.

▶ What will my timetable look like?
Can I choose my classes?
Timetable details for lectures, seminars and other scheduled teaching events for your selected modules will be available via the my.tcd.ie portal and from your programme office.

Electives are available to students from all disciplines across the university. Optional language modules are among these and include Irish, French, Spanish, German, Croatian, Korean, Japanese and Mandarin. Discover more at: www.tcd.ie/trinity-electives.

Typical degree workload: 60 credits per year (240 to graduate) and 300 for 5-year masters degrees. All modules are 5 or 10 credits, so you take between 3 and 6 modules per semester (balanced at 30 credits per semester). Final year Capstone projects are 20 credits.

Life at Trinity

▶ Do I need a visa from the United States?
Students who are United States nationals do not require a visa to enter Ireland. However once you are here you will still be required to register with the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service (INIS) after arrival. To see if you require a visa for Ireland visit: www.inis.gov.ie/en/IN ▶ What support is available for international students?

Each undergraduate student has a personal tutor. This is a faculty member assigned to advise, guide and be a source of support for any issue that may impact a student’s academic life.

In addition, the Global Room www.tcd.ie/study/international/trinity-life/global-room offers a student support officer and team of ambassadors trained in working with international students.

All students have access to the health centre, counselling service, Students’ Union welfare officer and learning support. See more supports on page 26.

Application Process

Entry to Irish universities is competitive, and no graduate applicant, from Ireland or any other country has an automatic right to admission. Most courses at Trinity have a restricted number of places available for postgraduate students. The range of studies on offer is vast and the standard set for postgraduate study is exceptionally high. This combination, together with the range of ancillary facilities in the immediate vicinity of the University, offers an almost unparalleled learning experience to all postgraduate students.

Online Applications

All course information and online application details are available at www.tcd.ie/courses/postgraduate

All applications for postgraduate research and taught programmes should be made online by logging on to my.tcd.ie.

Throughout the application and admission process, communications between Trinity and the applicant will primarily be via online messaging within the my.tcd.ie portal, and via email. Please note that incomplete applications cannot be processed. Applicants should make all reasonable effort prior to registration to ensure that the course/programme they are registering for meets their expectations by:

▶ Contacting the relevant course co-ordinator or prospective supervisor/research director.

▶ Accessing all information available on the courses website www.tcd.ie/courses/postgraduate and the specific school/course web pages linked on this site.

Once you have submitted an online application you will be sent an acknowledgment email to the email address you provided when setting up your user account on my.tcd.ie applicant portal. The applicant portal will allow you to send and receive communications in respect of your application to Trinity. You will be able to track the progress of your application at every stage of the admissions process; update your personal information, view decisions made on your application(s) and accept or refuse any offers you may receive.

Peter Hyatt – USA

Postgraduate: Bioengineering

“Having lived in the US most of my life, I’ve always wanted to travel to see the rest of the world. The MSc in Bioengineering matched my specific academic interest unlike any other school and it’s in a place that I knew had an amazing and fun culture. Stepping out of your comfort zone is one of the hardest things to do but is often the first step to making amazing memories. The only thing you’ll regret is not taking your opportunity.”

“My Erasmus year in Prague helped me develop important life skills such as confidence in my ability to meet challenges. I emerged from my Erasmus year with a deeper understanding of myself. As a student of the liberal arts, the city’s artistic and architectural heritage and its complex political history helped me understand the relationships between a place, its history, and its people. Student Life at Trinity

Immerse yourself in a broad range of sports clubs and student societies and get a real sense of the ‘Trinity Experience’.

Your first days at Trinity

Freshers’ Week
Trinity offers orientation to all new postgraduate and undergraduate students prior to the start of the academic year. This week of orientation is known as Freshers’ Week. There are no classes, so it’s all about meeting your new classmates, student support information sessions, seeing what sports clubs and societies you want to join, meeting your student mentor who will give you a tour of campus and organise social events, meeting your tutor who will provide support to you throughout your years in Trinity, and of course, the Freshers’ Ball.

During Freshers’ Week you can also meet people from the Sports Centre, the Library and Student Supports and Services. These are the services whose job it is to make sure that you get the best out of your time in Trinity.

A specific International Postgraduate Student Orientation takes place before teaching commences. Details are available at www.tcd.ie/students/orientation/postgraduates

What Happens After Freshers’ Week?
After the excitement of Freshers’ Week, teaching starts and you get a chance to settle into your course. Most classes are a mixture of lectures and tutorials and some have practicals as well. The tutorials are less formal and give you a chance to explore and discuss the topics covered in lectures with your classmates and teaching assistants.

Your class representative and your mentors organise events throughout the year that give you further opportunities to get to know your classmates.

Trinity in Twelve Weeks
The “Trinity in Twelve Weeks” programme aims to continue your orientation during your first semester and help your transition to university life. The programme has a new theme every week, through study and exam skills to how to look after yourself while at university. Your mentors will be in touch with you every week to let you know what the week’s theme is and to arrange events and activities.

Find out more at: www.tcd.ie/students/orientation/twelve-weeks

Kyle Ginsberg – USA
Undergraduate: English Literature and Sociology

“From the challenging academic atmosphere to the welcoming student environment, Trinity provides exactly the type of college experience I have always wanted. My advice would be to take advantage of societies as they are a unique tool to meet friends and adjust to college life. Trinity has a wonderful academic and social environment, and finding the balance between those two is essential to a positive college experience.”

Please note that a hybrid of virtual and face to face supports may still be in place for 2021 entry due to Covid-19.
Student Societies
At Trinity, we have 120 student societies which constitute some of the most dynamic and active university student societies in Ireland with everything from the Animation Society to the Zoological Society. We are home to the world’s oldest student societies, the ‘Hist’ or Historical Society founded in 1770 and the ‘Phil’ which is the oldest debating society in the world, founded in 1683, and whose guests have included everyone from Hollywood heavyweights such as Martin Scorsese to International Space Station commander Chris Hadfield. Find out more at: www.trinitysocieties.ie

Sports Clubs
The Sports Centre is where the majority of our fitness classes and programmes take place, seven days a week. Facilities include a 25-metre swimming pool, climbing wall, fully equipped gym with free weights and cardio machines, virtual cycle and a wellness room. Students are automatically members of the Sports Centre. There are small additional costs for some classes. Each year Trinity is proud to offer sports scholarships to international students who demonstrate outstanding ability. There are 50 sports clubs to choose from including: aikido, badminton, basketball, boating, boxing, climbing, cricket, cycling, equestrian, fencing, Gaelic football, golf, handball, hockey, hurling, judo, karate, kayaking, tennis, rugby, sailing, soccer, squash, surfing and bodyboarding, swimming, table tennis, taekwondo, trampoline, ultimate frisbee, triathlon and volleyball. E3 - Balanced Solutions for a Better World

Trinity has embarked on an ambitious project to expand education and research activities across three of its Schools; The Schools of Engineering, Natural Sciences, and Computer Science & Statistics. This expansion is being executed as a single strategic activity in the area of “Engineering, Environment, and Emerging Technologies”, or E3.

At the forefront of this expansion will be the new Martin Naughton E3 Learning Foundry, a state of the art 7,256 square metre new learning facility based on the main Trinity campus, which will deliver new teaching facilities and an innovative interactive learning space for undergraduate and postgraduate students.

With our leading research professors and staff, graduates will become co-creators of their futures and that of generations to come. Together they will seek out ‘balanced solutions for a better world’ and enable society to live on this planet in a more sustainable and equitable way.

E3 will position Ireland at the forefront of fields of research in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (the STEM disciplines), that are crucial for future economic competitiveness. It will educate engineers and scientists for employment in existing and new technology sectors, equip them with the skills and attributes to lead in the creation of new businesses, and place Ireland in a leadership role globally for the quality of graduates in the STEM disciplines. Find out more at: www.tcd.ie/e3

E3 is partially funded by the Project 2040, the Irish government’s long term overarching strategy to make Ireland a better country for all of its people.

Career Support for International Students

Career support is available for students looking to gain work experience while studying in Trinity, as well as for students looking to translate their experience in Trinity to a career back home or internationally. The Careers Service provides career guidance, advice and feedback on job applications and interview preparation and organises employer events on campus throughout the academic year. Student Mentors

All undergraduate students are assigned a Student 2 Student (S2S) mentor during Freshers’ Week. Your mentor will ensure you meet your classmates during Freshers’ week, will show you around the campus and will keep in regular touch, inviting you to events on and off campus. S2S also offers Peer Supporters, students available for one-to-one conversations on request. They’re highly trained, confidential and very approachable. Find out more at: student2student.tcd.ie

Health Service

The Health Service provides primary care medical services for students.
- Student consultations by appointment are free of charge with modest fees for additional services
- There are specialised clinics in physiotherapy, psychiatry, travel health, sexual health, smoking cessation and minor surgery
- It also focuses on the psychological and occupational aspects of student health and health education.

Health Care Provision in Ireland

All EU students from outside the Republic of Ireland pursuing a full degree programme should contact the Health Service Executive for advice regarding healthcare provision at: www.hse.ie

- All EU students should bring with them a European Health Insurance Card issued in their country of origin. Find out more at: ec.europa.eu/social/main.jsp?catId=559&amp;amp;langId=en
- Non-EU students are not entitled to free national health services in Ireland and are obliged to take out insurance cover for hospitalisation before leaving their home country in order to register with the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration. In order to register with the Irish Naturalisation and Immigration Service, as all non-EU students are required to do, you must show proof of health insurance to cover any major medical care necessary during your stay. “Coming to study at Trinity was an eye-opening experience. From my classmates to my professors I felt that studying at Trinity prepared me to be a citizen of the world. I would recommend that a student considering attending Trinity, if possible, visit. If that’s not possible, get in touch with the on-the-ground team in the US who are very responsive and helpful when making this huge decision.”

“A Trinity education opens so many doors and provides tremendous opportunities. It also combines an amazing academic opportunity with one that is actually affordable, unlike most in the U.S. Beyond the practical aspect, Dublin is an incredible city to get to live in, with so much to do and the entire country within a drive; there’s so much to explore and be a part of here.”
