Top FAQs

For US applicants

Applying

What's the top tip for applying from the US?

Firstly, reach out to your local Trinity representative. We have a number of in-country representatives that provide a host of supports, from individual meetings, video calls and group webinars, to help with all aspects of Trinity life. All our representatives can be found on the back cover of this guide or at: www.tcd.ie/study/country/usa

What percentage of students does Trinity accept?

We receive hundreds of US applications and can accept a much higher percent of qualified applicants than top US schools. Our rankings do not depend on percent of students accepted.

Is a Trinity degree recognised in the US?

Our 4-year degree programmes are recognised globally. US employers have strong awareness of Trinity's history of academic excellence. There are strong alumni networks in most major US cities and around the world, creating opportunities for mentoring and networking for all graduates.

Fees and Funding

Are scholarships available?

Trinity offers a number of scholarships for prospective and current students. Full scholarship information is available here: www.tcd.ie/study/international/scholarships

Does Trinity offer financial aid?

Trinity participates in the US Direct Loan Programme. You will find details of all Trinity sourced scholarships at www.tcd.ie/academicregistry/fees-and-payments/federal-aid. Any regional or local US scholarships that do not specifically exclude non-US universities can also be used at Trinity.

Studying at Trinity

Can I change my major?

Students apply and are admitted to a specific course. There are no "General Education" requirements; students begin their specific course of study immediately. Changes are made by students each year however changing to another course is challenging and uncommon. Changes are considered on a case-by-case basis.

Do you have Study Abroad programmes?

Trinity offers the opportunity to study in 300 universities around the world. Some courses, particularly those with language components, require that some time be spent outside of Ireland. Other courses may have direct links with corresponding departments in international partner universities. See www.tcd.ie/study/study-abroad for further information.

How many students attend Trinity?

Trinity has approximately 15,100 undergraduate and 6,280 postgraduate students. Approximately 34% of students come from 125 countries outside of Ireland. Students coming from the US make up approximately 7.43% of the total student body.

What is the average class size?

Class size varies from course to course. Some large courses, like BESS (Business, Economic and Social Studies), will have 1st and 2nd year lectures of over 150 people, along with small-group tutorials of 15-20. Smaller courses like Art History or Classics will have fewer students in each class. Third and fourth-year modules will be significantly smaller.

What will my timetable look like?

Can I choose my classes?

Timetable details for lectures, seminars and other scheduled teaching events for your selected modules will be available via the my.tcd.ie portal after your Registration and from your programme office. Electives are available to students from all disciplines across the university. Optional language modules are among these and include Irish, French, Spanish, German, Croatian, Korean, Japanese and Mandarin. Discover more at: www.tcd.ie/trinity-electives. Typical degree workload: 60 credits per year (240 to graduate) and 300 for 5-year integrated masters degrees. All modules are 5 or 10 credits, so you take between 3 and 6 modules per semester (balanced at 30 credits per semester). Final year Capstone projects are 20 credits.

Life at Trinity

Do I need a visa from the United States?

Students who are United States nationals do not require a visa to enter Ireland. However, once you are here you will still be required to register with the Immigration Service Delivery after arrival. To see if you require a visa for Ireland visit: www.irishimmigration.ie

What support is available for international students?

Each undergraduate student has a personal tutor. This is a faculty member assigned to advise, guide and be a source of support for any issue that may impact a student's academic life. A similar service, the Postgraduate Advisory Service (PAS), is available to postgraduate students. In addition, the Global Room www.tcd.ie/study/international/student-experience offers a student support officer and team of ambassadors trained in working with international students. Postgraduate Research at Trinity College Dublin, the University of Dublin

Trinity is recognised as one of the world's leading research-intensive universities and its research continues to address issues of global, societal and economic importance.

Applying for a Masters by Research or PhD at Trinity

As a truly international university, we welcome applications from prospective postgraduate students globally and we hope you will consider choosing Trinity for your postgraduate research.

1. Find a Potential Academic Supervisor

Once you have identified your research area, the next step is to make contact with academic staff in relevant fields and identify a potential supervisor: www.tcd.ie/research

2. Make Contact with Potential Academic Supervisor

Contact potential academic supervisors with a brief research proposal or idea, demonstrating your interest and relevant experience in the research area. If an academic staff member is willing to support your application for a PhD position, they will direct you to the school's online application page. Please note that some schools at Trinity have specific guidelines for applying for a PhD position. It is important to check the Schools' webpage for any additional information at: www.tcd.ie/courses/postgraduate/postgraduate-research

3. Submit your Application

You will need to submit your application by following the guidelines given to you by your potential supervisor. Your application will need to include a detailed research proposal, as well as transcripts, proof of English proficiency, CV and any other relevant document. Your application is then reviewed by the relevant School. The Dean of Graduate Studies conducts the final review and issues approval subsequent to meeting all criteria.

4. Explore Funding Opportunities

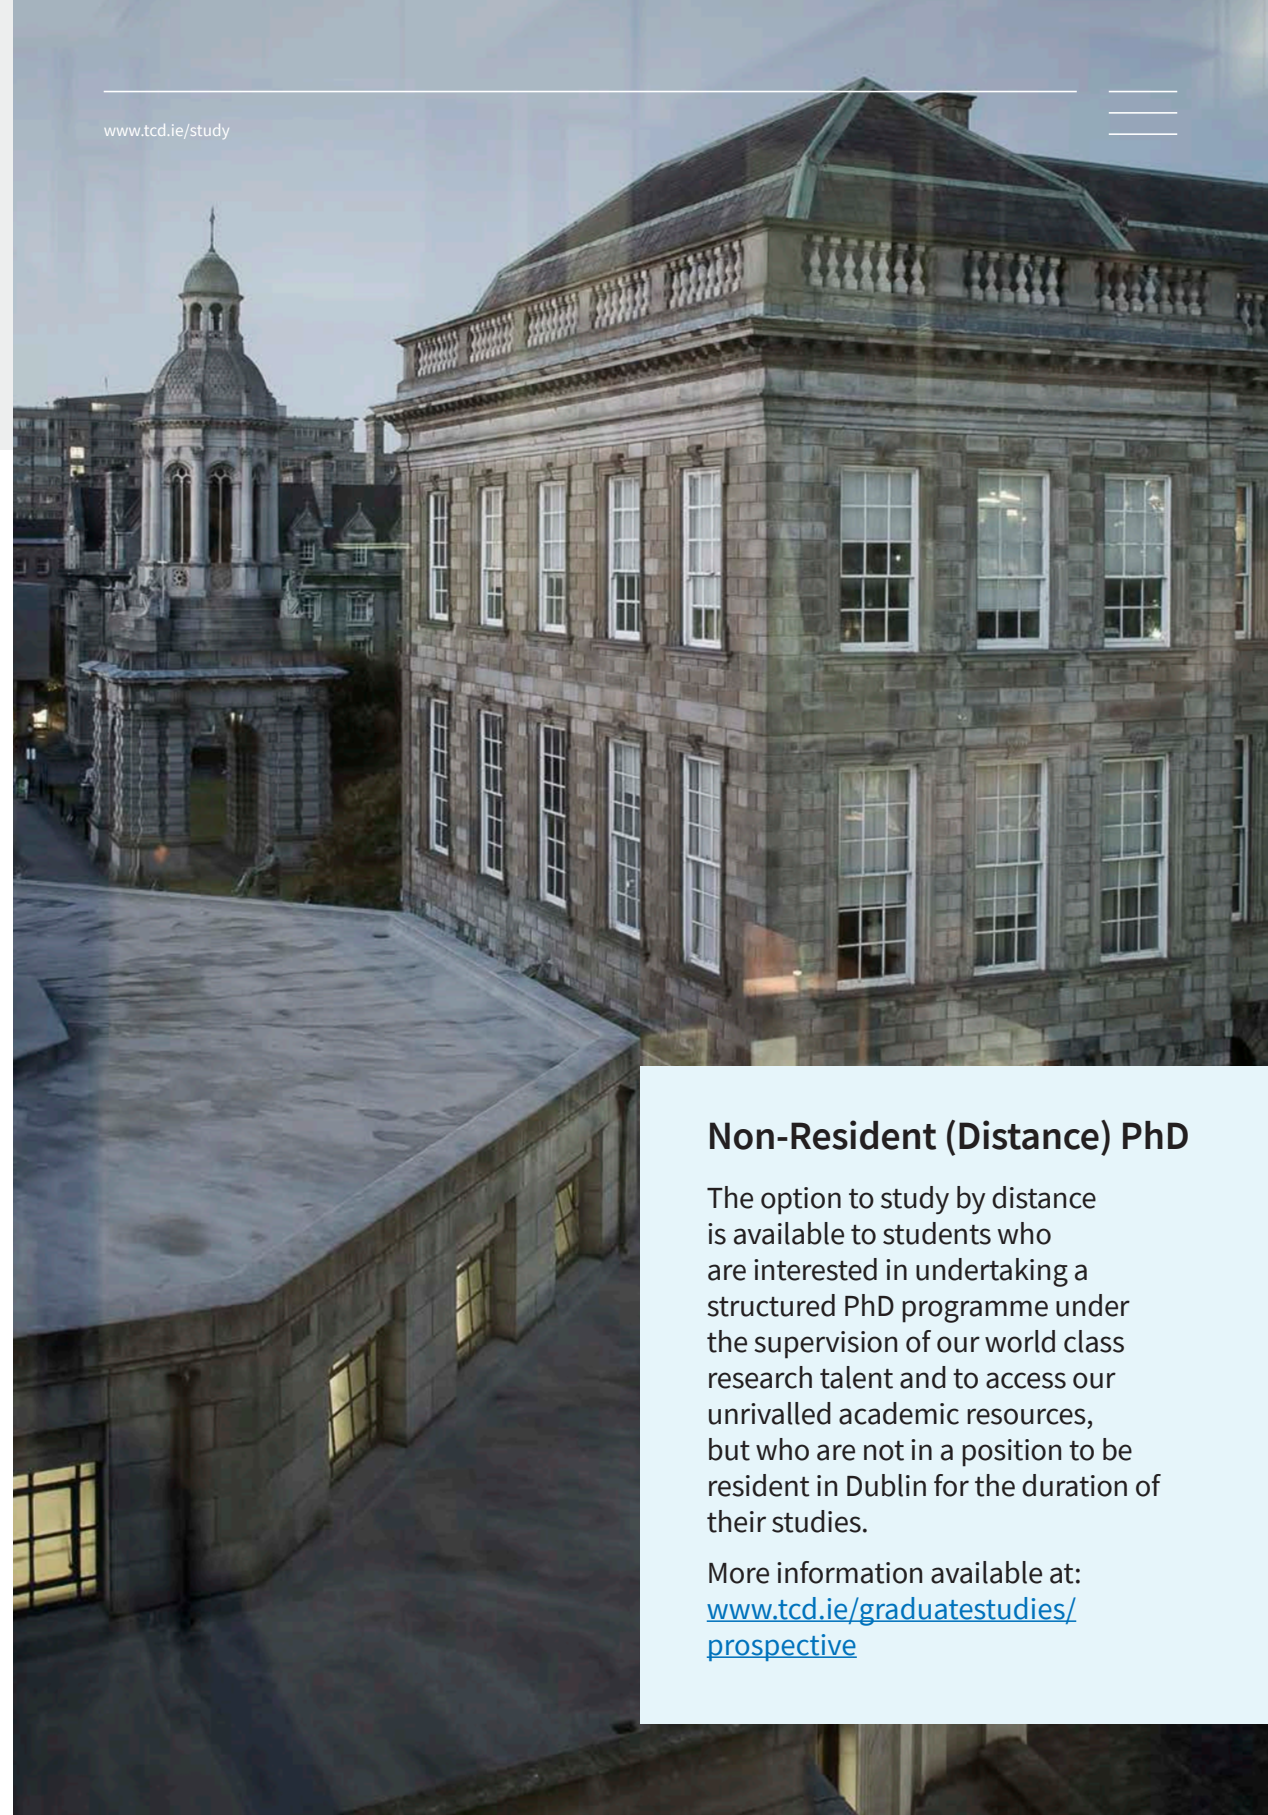

Once you find an academic willing to supervise your research, they will be best placed to advise you of relevant funding opportunities through Irish and European funding agencies. Additionally, you may also:

- Contact scholarship awarding bodies in your home country for possible PhD funding options.
- Review Trinity's postgraduate awards which are available only to students intending to register for full-time higher research degrees (i.e. PhD). www.tcd.ie/study/international/scholarships/postgraduate
- Contact the Regional Manager for your country for information on other opportunities: www.tcd.ie/global/people/#Recruitment

Non-Resident (Distance) PhD

The option to study by distance is available to students who are interested in undertaking a structured PhD programme under the supervision of our world class research talent and to access our unrivalled academic resources, but who are not in a position to be resident in Dublin for the duration of their studies.
