Postgraduate Research at Trinity

Trinity is recognised as one of the world's leading research-intensive universities and its research continues to address issues of global, societal and economic importance.

Trinity has research strengths that span the Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, STEM and Health Sciences, a spectrum that is mirrored by our broad range of taught postgraduate courses and research opportunities at Masters and doctorate level.

Postgraduate Research Students

Applying for a Masters by Research or PhD at Trinity

As a truly international university, we welcome applications from prospective postgraduate students across the globe and we hope you will choose Trinity for your PhD research programme.

Here are four steps to help on your journey towards starting postgraduate research at Trinity.

Research is at the heart of everything we do at Trinity

Research at Trinity →

Step 1: Find a Potential Academic Supervisor

First, explore Trinity's research areas and determine your subject of interest. The university offers opportunities for innovative postgraduate projects across a range of research groups and centres. Find out more at:

Trinity Research Themes →

The next step is to contact the academic staff relevant to your field and identify a potential supervisor. You can find our research staff at:

Trinity Research People →

Step 2: Make Contact with Potential Academic Supervisor

Once you have found potential academic supervisors, contact them with a brief research proposal, demonstrating your interest and relevant experience in the research area.

If an academic is willing to support your PhD application, they will direct you to the relevant school's online application page. Some Trinity schools have specific application guidelines, so please check each school's requirements at:

Postgraduate Research →

Step 3: Submit your Application

Submit your application following the guidelines provided by your potential supervisor. Your application must include a detailed research proposal, as well as academic transcripts, proof of English proficiency, a CV and any other relevant documents.

Your application is then reviewed by the relevant school. The Dean of Graduate Studies conducts the final review and will issue approval for the PhD if you have met all criteria.

Step 4: Explore Funding Opportunities

Once you find an academic willing to supervise your research, they will advise you of relevant funding opportunities through Irish and European funding agencies. You may also:

- Contact scholarship awarding bodies in your home country for possible PhD funding.
- Trinity offers postgraduate awards available only to students registering for full-time higher research degrees, such as PhDs. Find out more at: Scholarships & Funding →
- Contact the Regional Manager for your country for information on other funding opportunities. Details of these staff can be found at: Country/Region Pages →

Trinity is the first and only Irish university to join the prestigious ranks of the League of European Research Universities (LERU).

"Initially, I chose Trinity for its global reputation of excellence research and teaching. When I arrived, I was truly impressed by how active the students' union is. I can feel a sense of freedom and intellectual curiosity around the campus. The lecturers are true social scientist while being very attentive about my success in the programme. Trinity has a big network of alumni which are talented and are willing to help with career advice."

Employability and Careers

At Trinity we work closely with industry to ensure our programmes produce graduates ready for employment in their chosen sector. Many global technology, engineering, and pharmaceutical enterprises are located in Dublin, while the city also has a vibrant arts and creative scene.

The Trinity Careers Service links you with these companies through careers fairs and events held throughout the year.

Stay Back Work Permit for International Students

Students from outside the European Union (EU) with permission to undertake postgraduate study in Ireland are entitled to take up casual employment, defined as up to 20 hours part-time work per week or full-time work during vacation periods.

To encourage talented, skilled graduates to pursue careers in Ireland, nationals from outside the EU are permitted to remain in Ireland for an additional period of 12–24 months after receipt of results of their final examinations as part of the Third Level Graduate Scheme. See more at:

Irish Immigration →

Students from the EU are free to take up employment under standard EU free movement of labour regulations. However, mixing employment with study can be challenging, and it is recommended that students possess the financial resources to complete their chosen academic course.

“When I chose Trinity, I knew the coursework would be fantastic and advance my career. But what has impacted me the most has been the relationships with my professors. As a masters student, they encouraged original thinking and research which has allowed me to study exactly what I wanted. The success I’ve had in academia I directly attribute to their care and support.”

Willian Goncalves Brazil

M.Sc. Digital Marketing Graduate

“I chose Trinity for its global reputation, the tech opportunities in Dublin’s ‘Silicon Docks,’ and Trinity’s cultural diversity. I really appreciate the robust career support from professors, the careers team, and alumni, and, most importantly, the daily opportunity to apply the knowledge gained in lectures through real-case projects. Choosing Trinity feels like the best decision, aligning me with inspiring individuals and propelling me towards my professional goals.”

Fees and How to Apply

Fees

Course fees vary based on the discipline, the duration of study, and whether you are considered a resident of the European Union (EU) or non-EU resident for the purposes of your application. A non-refundable online fee of €55 per application is required for all taught and research courses.

An EU application is one made by a person who fulfils one or more of the following criteria:

1. who is ordinarily resident in the EU and has received full-time further or higher education in the EU for three of the five years immediately preceding admission; or
2. who is ordinarily resident in the EU and has worked full-time in the EU for three of the five years immediately preceding admission; or
3. who holds a passport from an EU state and has received full-time further or higher education in the EU for three of the five years immediately preceding admission.

All other applications are considered as non-EU. You can learn more about the application pathway for non-EU students at:

International Postgraduate Pathway →

Fee details for all courses are available at:

Student Finance →

How to Apply

Both postgraduate taught and research applicants apply at:

Postgraduate Courses →

By clicking on the specific course that you wish to apply for you will be directed to an application form where you will create or log in to your Trinity College Dublin user account and submit your application and supporting documents online. In some cases, there may be a requirement to complete a supplementary application form consisting of additional questions or documents. Please check the specific details for your course at:

Postgraduate Courses →

Once you have submitted an online application you will be sent an acknowledgment email to the email address you provided when setting up your user account through the applicant portal.

The applicant portal allows you to send and receive communications around your Trinity application. You can track your application's progress at every stage of the admissions process; update personal data; view decisions made on your application(s); and accept any offers of study you may receive.

Before making an application, please read the following:

- Choose your course at: Postgraduate Courses →
- Consider whether you meet the admission requirements.
- Gather the supporting documents you need to upload as part of your application.
- All of Trinity's postgraduate taught programmes are subject to minimum entry requirements.

Visa Requirements

If you are a citizen of the European Union (EU), European Economic Area (EEA), Switzerland or UK, you do not need a visa to enter and live in Ireland.

Some, but not all, non-EU/EEA/Swiss/UK students require an entry visa for Ireland. Visa-required non-EU students should contact their nearest Irish Embassy or Consulate for details on visa requirements. We advise students to apply for their entry visa early as they can take up to 8–12 weeks to process. Please visit:

Irish Immigration →

All non-EU/EEA/Swiss/UK students, whether visa-required or not, must register with Immigration Service Delivery (ISD) for permission to remain in the state. Students must show their offer letter from Trinity at airport immigration, where they will receive a temporary stamp in their passport allowing them to enter Ireland. They must then register with ISD within the time limit specified on their temporary stamp to gain a student visa. For more about visa and immigration information, please visit:
