A VIBRANT RESEARCH COMMUNITY

The School of Nursing and Midwifery PhD Scholarship is open to nurses who wish to conduct research that advances innovation in practice, integration of care or health systems, and enhanced health outcomes in their chosen field of study. The Trinity Centre for Ageing and Intellectual Disability hosts The Intellectual Disability Supplement to The Irish Longitudinal Study on Ageing (IDS-TILDA), an internationally unique comparative study on the determinants of health and wellbeing of people ageing with an intellectual disability. PhD students will be offered the opportunity to work with world-leading academics.
