Approval of Linked Providers’ Quality Assurance Procedures

1. Context
Trinity College Dublin, the University of Dublin, herein referred to as Trinity, as a Designated Awarding Body (DAB) has prescribed responsibilities under the Quality & Qualifications Act 2012 (QQI Act 2012) and QQI Sector Specific Guidelines for Designated Awarding Bodies with respect to arrangements with higher education institutions (HEIs) seeking or receiving validation of programmes of education and/or research leading to Trinity Awards. Under the Act these providers are referred to as linked providers.

Linked providers are responsible under §28(1) of the Act to “establish procedures in writing, for quality assurance for the purposes of establishing, ascertaining, maintaining and improving the quality of education, training, research and related services the provider provides”. §33 (1) of the Act requires that in establishing procedures under §28(1) of the Act “a linked provider shall submit a draft of the proposed procedures to the relevant designated awarding body for approval”.

The QQI Act 2012 and the Core Statutory Quality Assurance Guidelines places the responsibility with the provider for the mechanisms and procedures adopted to achieve and maintain a desired level of quality. The onus is on the the provider at all times to ensure procedures are fit-for-purpose and compliant with legislation, regulation and good practice in each jurisdiction in which it operates.

2. Purpose
The purpose of this policy is to outline the process by which Trinity will fulfil its responsibilities under §33 (1) of the Act to:

a. approve the proposed quality assurance procedures;
b. refuse to approve the proposed quality assurance procedures but make recommendations to the linked provider, as Trinity considers appropriate;
c. refuse to approve the proposed procedures.

This initial approval process is a ‘once-off’ requirement under the Act.

This policy also outlines the process by which Trinity will on an ongoing basis, review and approve linked providers’ new and revised procedures subsequent to initial approval.
3. Scope
This policy applies to linked providers with whom Trinity has entered into formal arrangements in respect of validated programmes of education.

3.1. Trinity College will quality assure the linked provider’s quality procedures in relation to validated academic programmes, the quality of teaching and learning, and the student experience of teaching and learning on these programmes.

3.2. Trinity College requires that linked providers self-certify the quality of non-academic procedures which fall within the legal and corporate responsibility of the linked provider as separate legal entities and provide to Trinity a signed checklist detailing those procedures and where any such procedures have a statutory basis, linked providers are also asked to provide evidence of external review and assurance of those procedures.

3.3. Trinity reserves the right to audit any or all of the Linked Providers quality assurance policies and procedures.

3.4. The effectiveness review of approved quality assurance procedures required under §37 (1) (a) of the Act is out of scope of this policy i.e. an external Quality Review.

3.5. Education programmes leading to Trinity College or University of Dublin Awards can only be provided by the linked provider under formal arrangements in other jurisdictions by prior arrangement with Trinity and are outside the scope of this policy.

4. Benefits
4.1. The policy provides direction on the roles, responsibilities and timelines associated with the process for approval by Trinity of linked provider quality assurance procedures as they relate to the above scope.

4.2. It recognises that quality and its assurance is the primary responsibility of the linked provider.

4.3. It mitigates the risk of non-compliance in areas of corporate, legislative, and regulatory compliance by requiring linked providers to seek external review and assurance that quality procedures are fit-for-purpose and comply with current national legislation in Ireland.

5. Definition
5.1 QQI defines linked providers as higher education providers that do not have the power to award degrees, but provide a programme of education and training that satisfies all or part of the prerequisites for an award of the designated awarding body through arrangements with a designated awarding body.

5.2 Trinity identifies linked providers as non-awarding institutions where Trinity is typically the only designating awarding body with formal arrangements in respect of validated programmes of education delivered by the linked provider on the National Framework of Qualifications.

5.3 Trinity identifies as collaborative education partners:

   i. non-awarding institutions with whom Trinity has a formal agreement to co-deliver a programme of education where Trinity’s quality assurance policies and procedures apply to the quality assurance of the programme delivered by the provider and awarded by Trinity College Dublin or The University of Dublin on the National Framework of Qualifications;

ii. designated awarding bodies in Ireland and internationally with whom Trinity has formal arrangement to co-deliver programmes of education under the Trinity’s ‘Collaborative and Transnational Education Policy or Dual and Joint Awards Policy.

6. Principles
6.1 Quality and its assurance is the primary responsibility of the linked provider, it involves planning, defining, assessing and improving practice.

6.2. Successful quality assurance systems are efficient, well communicated and integrated into the normal activities of the linked provider’s operations and are fit for context and purpose.
